Maurice Bell Honored For Twenty Years' Effort

"Thanks, Mr. Bell" was the large motto in band colors, wine and gold, on the stage of Warkworth Town Hall when former Warkworth band members of the last 20 years gathered with friends to express appreciation to Maurice Bell of Stirling who was Warkworth bandmaster from 1950-1971.

The Campbellford High School Band under the direction of Don Freeman presented several numbers. One number entitled "Our Director" was a favorite of the former Warkworth Band. Mr. Bell was called upon to direct the band in this selection and at that time he recognized in the 50 place band the following former Warkworth band members: Wendy Rodgers, Laura Ingram, Kevin Isaac, Lorne McGee, Ray and Rick Richardson. Other selections by the band were "Irish Melodies", "Instant Concert" and "Jesus Christ, Superstar".

Instrumental and vocal numbers by Ray and Rick Richardson included "King of the Road", "Go Happy Day" and "Get Together". Instruments played were trombone, accordion and guitar.

Nancy Hermonist sang, "The Sound of Music" and "Somewhere Over the Rainbow".

Reminiscences included many humorous aspects of the 23 year period. Slides showing band participation in 1967 Centennial Parade, Remembrance Day Parade, Warkworth Fair and service at Trent Valley Cemetery were shown by Mrs. Raymond Richardson.

Chairman for the program was Mr. William Isaac who had been in the percussion section of the band during the entire 20 year period.

Mr. Bell is still active in instrumental music in elementary school. He is employed by Hastings County Board of Education teaching instrumental music to about 300 pupils from grades 2-8. Mr. Bell has had extensive experience in teaching which includes the Stirling Citizens Band that began in 1936, Trent Lions Club Band 1952-59, Marmora High School Band 1960-63. Mr. Bell's sons, Bob and Bill were also in attendance. They are experienced musicians, having played with

In charge of the guest book was Mrs. Don Thompson, who had been an instigator of the band when it was formed in 1949 and it carried forth under the Percy Recreation Commission. Included in the artifacts of the 20 years were three bank uniforms of that period. The first was a white shirt with navy skirt or trousers; the second showed a wine blazer with gold lining. This wine and gold theme was carried out in the decorations around the hall.

Senior Citizens hold meeting

There were about 50 present at Senior Citizens on Thursday and we really had a ball. With 11 tables in play at euchre, Mable Brooks and Florence Hough (playing as a man) won first prize. Several of us were partly responsible that Evelyn Finkle and Helen Saries got the low, disle Scribe thinks there should be a prize for the losers there could be no winners. The only sad thing is we also help the loser to lose.

We extend sympathy to Beattie West in the bereavement of her brother, Norman Tanner of Oshawa.

We welcomed one guest, Tilly Senior brought along her neighbor, Margaret Forsyth of Frankford, as her guest. Nellie Montgomery, Mable Brooks and Myrtle Tanner treated us to a nice lunch. While we were singing the birthday song to Helen Fitchett Clarence presented her with a flaming birthday cake.

JUST LAUNDRY
"All right back there?" shouted the bus driver.

"No, Wait 'til I get my clothes on," replied a feminine voice. So the driver not wanting to miss anything, rushed to the rear and watched a girl get on with a basket of laundry.

Showcase '73 Artsfest Highlight

Showcase '73 is this year's highlight in Belleville's annual artsfest. Darrell Calvin, a New York director, has been hired especially for this occasion. Mr. Calvin oversees the organization of more than 70 people who are involved with the production. Thirty people will be taking part in stage activities which includes musical numbers and revues. In addition, there will be a 6 piece professional pit band, described as a small band but with a big sound by Music Director, Frank Martin.

With 17 singers and dancers in the chorus, the job of choreographer is indeed an awesome task, but this duty is being well taken care of by the Quinte Dance Centre. Vocal direction will be in the excellent hands of Wally Williamson, assuring us of success in this area as well. Behind the scenes, the all important technical duties that make an excellent production possible are under the capable direction of Ted Balfour of Loyall College. Eleanor Jordani is head costume coordinator and Peter Bailey is stage manager, helped by a production crew of 10. The Batawa Community has the opportunity to preview Showcase '73 on April 3 at the Councillor Martin stated that in other Council business was completed he would like to discuss the Sewer and Lagoon extensions with Council. He said he had two questions: 1. Who is the owner of the Village Sewer System? Answer - The Ministry of the Environment (formerly OWRC) is the owner until it is paid for. 2. When was the request made for the Sewer extension which could include Lagoon extension? Answer - 1968. Due to the Ministry not approving the report presented by Hisey and Barrington, and after a second report being presented it also was not accepted and finally the Engineers were fired; Greer and Galloway, the firm hired by the Village and approved by the Ministry.

Mr. Martin said he had been contacted by three residents of Sidney Township who had, along with many others from Sidney, attended the Public Hearing on February 13, 1973 and objected to the proposed location of the lagoon. They informed Councillor Martin they felt they had made an objection and should have been notified individually before having to read it in the local paper. The Village Council resolved a very brief letter on March 17, stating the report of the Public Hearing and that the Ministry approved of the finding. Council had no knowledge at this time if any other people had been notified.

Council was informed that Dr. Potter had been approached by Sidney Township residents in this regard and had visited the site. All Council members stated their views on the subject which was left in abeyance until further work was received from the Ministry.

The changing of certain streets as recommended at a previous meeting was discussed, a copy of a By-Law had been received from Toronto, but Council had not come up with any suggested names for these streets. It was finally decided that each Councillor should make a list of names for Council to decide at the next meeting.

Council duly adjourned to meet again Wednesday, April 4, with our Planning Engineers, with the next regular meeting April 16.

ICE REMOVAL

A breakdown in the artificial ice plant forced Stirling Arena Committee to take the ice out, closing the season early with Midget finals and Novice House League games yet to play. Cecil Solmes and Steve Baxter shovel slushy ice during Friday night's Legion House League Playoffs. The Novice final game has been moved to Trenton Memorial Gardens Wednesday night while the second game of the Midget series will be played in Trenton Friday night.

Hold Playoffs In Trenton

Stirling hockey fans get their chance to show their degree of support for local hockey teams this week, as three games have been scheduled for the Trenton Community Gardens, due to the plant breakdown in Stirling and the subsequent removal of the ice here.

Headed the list is the Ontario Finals of the Midget Series in the Ontario Minor Hockey Association in which Stirling and Six Nations are currently battling. Six Nations leads the series 1-0 by virtue of its win in Waterloo Sunday. The second game will be played at the Trenton arena Friday night at 8 p.m. Stirling fans are asked to come out and support this team, which has a long history of competition with the Indian team.

In 1968 the Six Nations' team was runner-up in the Ontario Pee Wee championship; in 1970 they were runner-up to Stirling as it won the all-Ontario title in Pee Wee; and last year put out Stirling in the finals.

Wednesday night the Novice finals will be held at the Trenton arena from 6-7 p.m. and from 8-9 o'clock, the Stirling Girls Hockey team, sponsored by Ken Sine Fuels, will play the second game of its series with Kingston, in that championship round.

Third game in the Midget series will be held Sunday afternoon in Hagersville, with time to be announced. Dates for the fourth and fifth games of the series, if needed, have not yet been announced.

Exceptional goal tending gave Six Nations a 6-1 win in the first game of the best of five Ontario Finals Sunday in Waterloo.

Kevin Solmes assisted by Stan Myers picked up Stirling's only goal early in the third period. Six Nations completed the scoring late in the final frame to give them their first game win.

Bob Powless scored three goals for the winners while

Brian and Roger Martin picked up a single each. The score didn't indicate the type of play as coaches of the team report that Stirling was able to keep up to Six Nations in the skating department but Six Nations got the breaks and managed to put the pucks in the net.

The same group of players met last year in the Bantam Stirling-Six Nations Ontario Finals.

GATHERING SAP
Charles Irvine, left, pours sap from an old wooden bucket into a collecting pail held by Bert Frink, chairman of the Education-Information Board of the Moira River Conservation Authority. The Authority has been holding visitations for the past two weekends to the Irvine sugar bush, located near Fuller, while during the week many schools in Belleville and area are busying students to the sugar bush to witness the collecting and boiling down of the sap.

Have you claimed your credit?

Even if you don't pay income taxes you may benefit from the Ontario Government's new Property Tax Credit Plan, but you must apply by filling in a 1972 Income Tax Return.

You'll find a special mauve claim form just for that purpose in the 1972 income tax kit. An explanation of the plan is right on the form.

The new Property Tax Credit Plan provides greater benefits for more—the elderly, roomers, boarders, and low income families.

If you paid property taxes or rent last year, you may be eligible. Pick up a tax return kit at any post office, if you haven't already got one. And send in both the tax return and the mauve claim form. But do it quickly—remember returns and claims are to be filed by April 30th.

Your federal District Taxation Office will be glad to answer any questions you might have.

The Ontario Property Tax Credit Plan: we thought of it, but we'd like you to get the credit.

Time To Plan

The fact that Stirling's Midget Hockey team will have to conclude its Ontario Championship series with Waterford on home ice away from home provides a good opportunity to seriously consider the future of the present Stirling Arena, and what action should be taken to remedy what will likely continue to be a worsening situation in years to come. This is brought about by the fact that the local ice plant broke down over the weekend and could not be repaired in time to continue the series, and also, were it repaired, whether it could produce satisfactory ice at this late date in the season is questionable.

Stirling's arena, which is about 40 years old, has served the community well, and was originally built, and for many years maintained at a minimum of expense. Those close to the situation realize something will have to be done in the not too distant future, and with the present circumstances, now might be as good a time to start planning as any.

Two basic decisions have to be taken, -- where to build new premises, and how large should they be. While the present facilities have served the double purpose of hockey and curling, perhaps the present rink could be made suitable for curling, and the new one used for hockey and figure skating. It is also possible, without the curling involved, the new facility could be rented some of the time and realize additional revenue. Such a new building could also be utilized in the off season for any large functions, a capacity which is lacking in this area at the moment. With Stirling's central location, and if it had such a building, it would quite likely come in for much use.

We understand there has been some consideration to locating any new arena on the fair grounds property. If this were done, it would solve the problem of land having to be purchased, and also would provide an ample parking facility, one of the present locale's main drawbacks. Such additional space might prove useful for the annual fair's two-day stint, and also provide incentive to try and attract other ventures to the community.

Whatever is done, will not be done in a few weeks or even months. With the complex situation of government grants, approvals, arranging other financing and community involvement of various groups, the ultimate action would be, optimistically a year away, even if plans were started now. Such an undertaking will require much planning, selling to both local residents and public groups.

We do not suggest that the present structure is about to collapse and become unusable another season. We do suggest that some serious consideration be given to what will be needed, and it be done before we reach a crisis situation.

Do You Remember?

25 Years Ago

In commemoration of the Resurrection with its promise of eternal life -- Easter services were held in all Stirling Churches on Sunday last, with large congregations being in attendance.

Mr. Harold Elliott of Bethel, President of Belleville Presbytery Women's Association, was guest speaker at the Holloway St. W.A., on Thursday, March 16.

Most Rev. J.A. O'Sullivan, D.D., Archbishop of Kingston, has appointed Rev. Simon LeSage of Stirling as the parish priest of St. Mary's Church at Chesterville. The appointment was made necessary by the death of Rev. P.J. Keaney, the pastor of St. Mary's for 17 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Armstrong and children were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ashby, Wooler.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Good attended the O.E.A. sessions in Toronto this week.

Owing to the number of smallpox cases at present there are no church or League services at Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. Wilbert Reid and wife, who spent the winter at Har- old, have moved to Stirling.

On Saturday night, despite the mud and darkness, a large number gathered at the home of Mr. Thos. Cook, Sr., for the purpose of bidding their good-bye before leaving for their new home at Ivanhoe.

Mr. Donald A. Bird has been appointed to a position on the staff of the United Empire Bank.

to preventive from the corrective or restorative dentistry approach. There is a great deal of concern about "baby" teeth and the role they have to play in the development of the permanent teeth.

Teeth are meant to last a lifetime. It's archaic to think that most people are supposed to lose their natural teeth by middle age and then wear artificial dentures.

Adding to the life expectancy of teeth and other oral structures are new methods and materials for filling teeth, treating gum diseases, intelligent use of antibiotics and a better understanding of the dental role of nutrition and

At Carmel service in the afternoon Joan Helen Pyear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pyear, was christened.

Stainer's Crucifixion, a meditation on the Sacred Passion of the Holy Redeemer, was presented in St. Paul's United Church on Good Friday morning before a congregation which filled the edifice.

Mr. P.C. McGuire, C.L.O., has been appointed manager of the Belleville Branch of The Mutual Life of Canada, to succeed Mr. S.R. Burrows who has retired.

Rev. W.H. Stevens occupied the pulpit in the Baptist church, Stirling, on Sunday next, April 8th at 2:30 p.m.

In the Redistribution Bill now before the Ontario Legislature, it is proposed to take Huntingdon from North Hastings and attach it to East Hastings.

On and after the 1st day of April the price of milk will be reduced to five cents per quart.

Rev. W.H. Stevens returned on Tuesday after spending three weeks in Quebec province. Mr. Stevens has accepted the pastorate of a Baptist congregation at Sawyer- ville, Que., and expects to leave here in the near future.

Dental Topics

There have been more advances in dentistry in the last 40 years than during the previous 400.

Advancement is coming so rapidly and so great in volume that a dentist has difficulty in keeping abreast of the improvements. He must study continuously.

Field and Stream, a U.S. sportsman's magazine that usually shows a real concern for environmental preservation, went off the deep end in its March issue.

Writer Roger Betz praised walleye fishing in Ontario. That's fine. It encourages good fishermen to come here and try their luck, and fishermen are usually the pleasantest and neatest tourists we get in Ontario.

But Mr. Betz suggests in his article one method of creating a walleye "hotspot" that is not only undesirable and unsanitary, it's illegal.

He tells fishermen to bring a large gap still exists in bringing you into the picture. Increasing educational use of television, radio and the press is helping to solve some problems, but much more has to be accomplished in motivating you to help yourself to better dental health.

a case of dog food with them and on the first day of a week-long fishing trip, drop punctured cans in bunches in likely spots. By the end of the week, he claims, this will attract the small fish on which walleye prey.

I won't comment on the effectiveness of this as a fishing method.

But I can tell you what some of the effects will be.

First, we have the bottom of a lake littered with punctured, rusting cans full of rotting dog food. As the food rots, the process of decomposition takes oxygen from the water. Enough of this type of fishing, and a lake with a limited oxygen supply can be depleted to the point where its fish die for lack of oxygen.

There are the bacteria involved in this decomposition. If the dog food hot spot is close to a cottage's water intake, that cottage's drinking water is no longer safe.

Dog food is usually rich in oils—a little taste of rancid oil in water goes a long, long way. The swimmer or cottager who gets a mouthful won't forget it quickly.

As decomposition advances in a can, the methane gas generated pops it to the surface. It's a hazard to boats, water skiers and swimmers alike. And rusting cans full of rotting dog food do little for the view or for the air as they wash onto the beach.

For the past year, Environment Ontario has been working to discourage littering. I think we're getting somewhere with controlling litter.

Certainly the last thing we need is to have a major publication print an article that actively recommends a water-polluting form of litter.

By the way, just in case the chance of improving your catch of fish is more important than the environment to you, throwing cans of any sort into a lake is illegal.

Compensation talk

FINANCING

On the job injuries to Ontario workers are expected to result in expenditures in excess of $137 million in the current year. That's the amount it is anticipated the Workmen's Compensation Board will pay out to cover the cost of medical treatment for injured workers and to provide the various cash benefits to which they and their families are entitled.

The amount estimated is the equivalent of approximately $18 for every man, woman and child in the province; but not one of them will be required to make direct contribution to the sum.

Entire cost of Ontario's Workmen's Compensation system is borne by the province's industries and businesses — the companies whose workers are covered by the program.

It has been that way since January 1, 1915, when Ontario's legislators decided all aspects of protecting workers against an injury on the job should be a cost of doing business in the province.

To distribute overall cost equitably, the majority of businesses and industries are assigned to one of 27 classes, based on the type of operation. These general classes are further subdivided into what has become a total of 108 distinct categories established on the basis of the degree of hazard which normal experience has shown exists in the specific work being done.

The amount an individual firm pays into the Workmen's Compensation fund depends primarily on the category (rate number is the Board designation) to which it is assigned. Assessment rates for the various categories, which is expressed as a percentage of a firm's payroll covering employees for earnings up to $9,000 a year, can be anything from 15 cents per $100 payroll (the most present rate for employees of municipal school boards) to a high of $13 per $100 payroll (the amount assessed against firms engaged in tunnelling operations).

The firms in each separate category or rate number are responsible among themselves for covering the cost of providing overall Workmen's Compensation benefits to their workers. The rate of assessment in any given rate number will vary according to the accident costs in a particular industry. In 1971, 49.5% of each dollar the Workmen's Compensation Board collected from Ontario industry was spent on direct aid to the province's injured workmen. Four percent was directed to the promotion of safe practice (an expenditure which also has obvious direct benefits for workers).

Economy in administration is given constant attention by the Board. Modern business techniques and computerization of routine procedures, held administrative costs during 1971, to 6.5% of total expenditures.

Spring Brook WI

The hostess for the March meeting of the Spring Brook Women's Institute was Mrs. James Spry. Mrs. Ed Bateman and Mrs. E. Heath assisted by sending lunch. 17 ladies were in attendance including one new member.

The Pres. Mrs. G. Williams opened the meeting with an inspirational reading 'Spring Cleaning', O'Canada and the Opening Ode were sung and the Mary Stewart Collect repeated.

Mrs. W. J. Barlow read the minutes of the February meeting, also the correspondence and the treasurer's report. A short time of business followed during which it was moved and seconded that the Institute would donate fifty dollars to the Spring Brook Recreation Centre. Birthday greetings were extended to Mrs. James Spry and Mrs. Beverly Storms. The pennies for friendship collection was received.

Mrs. Cyril McKeown gave an interesting, detailed report of the District Directors meeting held recently in Madoc. The roll call was answered by each person giving the name and commenting on a holiday spot they had visited in Canada.

The program of Citizenship and World Affairs was then presented by Mrs. L. McInroy, and Mrs. G. Williams. The first few minutes were spent doing a contest which was conducted by Mrs. L. McInroy. Mrs. G. Burkitt then gave an interesting reading on the arrival of Spring. Mrs. L. McInroy spoke a few minutes on the motto - "Every person has a tribute to give to his country", listing a number of the freedoms which are enjoyed but taken for granted in Canada.

Mrs. Beverly Storms then read a poem 'Our Native Land' which was a tribute to the beauty of our country. A poem 'Our Emblem, The Maple Leaf' was read by Mrs. Huldah McInroy expressing the beauty and abundance of the maple trees in Canada, giving reasons why the Maple Leaf may have been chosen as the emblem of Canada.

A very informative time followed when Mrs. G. Williams spoke on the topic 'Legislation' explaining Parliamentary procedures in meetings such as the Women's Institutes.

What your dollars do.

As told by Denis Lapalme who was once a crippled child.

I'm sure glad to be able to thank everyone for the help they give me and crippled children at Easter Seal time. Three years ago I was in a bad accident. A train ran over my legs, but I'm okay now, even though I wear artificial legs. I can play hockey, ride a bike, climb trees and play ball.

I'm this year's Timmy and it's me you see running on the new Easter Seal cheque.

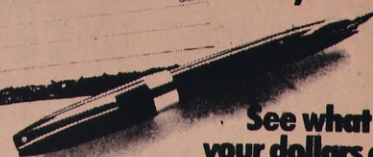

Will you please send in your donations to help make the other crippled children better, like me.

I thanks very much.

Yours truly

Denis Lapalme

Burning Rectal Itch
Relieved In Minutes
Exclusive Healing Substance
Relieves Pain As It
Shrinks Hemorrhoids.

If you want satisfactory relief from
"itching piles" - here's good news.
A renowned research laboratory has found a unique healing substance that promptly relieves the burning itch and pain - actually shrinks hemorrhoids. This substance has been shown to produce a most effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.
In case after case "very striking improvement" was noted, even in cases of long standing. And the improvement was maintained over a period of months!
This was accomplished by a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) -
which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulate growth of new tissue. Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation "H". Ask for it at all drug stores - satisfaction or money refunded.

THE STIRLING FESTIVAL OF SACRED PRAISE

Aim: To promote a love for Sacred Praise, especially among boys, girls and young people.

Stirling, Ontario
March, 1973

Dear Friends:

April 30th to May 4th has been chosen as the date for the 23rd Annual Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise. The Committee responsible for preparation of this Festival seeks to improve the Festival each year. The changes in the syllabus, we hope, will help to create greater participation. In 1972 we were pleased with the increase in entries.

Since 1950, when the Festival was first begun, many persons have contributed a great deal to the success of the Festival through their participation, interest and financial support. The Festival is a time when we hope to promote more interest in, and appreciation for, Sacred Praise and Study of the Scriptures. We have been able to secure the services of well qualified adjudicators, appreciative of the standard of music set by the Festival. All contestants have shown enthusiasm, and talent in their presentations and we trust have been helped and encouraged to continue in their field of music through these constructive adjudications.

This year we have secured the service of Dr. D.M. Smith, of Campbellford, to adjudicate the scriptures, Miss Bayanna Toiy of The Royal Conservatory of Music Toronto, for piano, organ, vocal and choir, and Professor Dwayne Bates of Queen's University, Kingston for Band and Instrumental Music. These Adjudicators come very highly recommended to us and we hope they will be very beneficial to our Festival.

On behalf of the Members of the Committee for the Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise, may we sincerely thank you for your interest and financial support in previous years, which has enabled us to continue with this worthwhile work. Anticipating your assistance each year, our financial burden is eased and we are encouraged to continue our work.

MAN'S QUESTIONS...
GOD'S ANSWERS.

Am I accountable to God?
...every one of us shall give account of himself to God (Romans 14:12).

Does He charge me with sin?
...But the scriptures hath concluded all under sin, (Galatians 3:22)

"You'll be amazed at the difference when you feed your plants with CIL Flower & Vegetable Food."

Mediterranean Trip Exciting Adventure

Fourteen students from Stirling were part of a delegation of Centennial Secondary School students who returned recently from a two week cruise in the Mediterranean. Centennial was part of the Hastings County secondary schools contingent taking part in the Newworld Educational Cruises Inc. An additional 18 grade 12 students from North Addington Education Centre in Clonoe also accompanied the county group.

Mediterranean '73 was personally planned by Centennial Secondary School history department head, Lloyd Jones, who instigated Hastings County's participation in the educational cruises.

Mr. Jones is already planning Mediterranean '74, a cruise that will leave Naples for the Holy Land and Yugoslavia, during the winter school break next year.

The '73 cruise departed from Venice and continued to Delphi, Crete, Turkey, Corinth, Athens and Naples. It concluded with one and a half days in London. The students were aboard the cruise ship Uganda, for the trip of their lifetime.

The students were accompanied on their two week cruise by teachers from their schools and Hastings County board of education chairman

Mac Smith and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Smith were guests of the Newworld Educational Cruises Inc. Seven hundred of the 1,000 students on the cruise were from Ontario. The remainder were English students including a group from Eton College, Mr. Smith said following his return last week. "I was pleased with the way the kids conducted themselves. And I was impressed with how conscientious our teachers are. They are working all the time being responsible for the kids 24 hours a day."

In Mr. Smith's opinion, the students have "matured considerably because of the Now Myrtle Tanner and Letta Curtis seem like a harmless pair but... watch them. They let a skunk loose and it sprayed all over Mary Cooke and Gord Bailey... phew.

We all burst into song when we discovered it was Ethel Duffin's birthday. She is a year older but sure don't look it. A nice lunch was served by

NEW SERVICE

A new service is being instituted in the Stirling News-Argus, which will help avoid, if utilized to the fullest extent, some of the numerous conflicts which arise in Stirling and area with several functions on the same date. The idea is to publish each week a calendar of events for the month.

There will be two categories of items—public meetings such as council, public utilities, etc., for which there will be no charge; and meetings of any and all groups of which the News-Argus is notified in time. There will be a small charge for these, which will cover the production expense only. Such groups as service clubs, church group meetings, Scouts, Cubs, Guides, Brownies and Rangers, 4-H groups, etc., will be given a flat rate per meeting and will be inserted provided adequate notice is given. Other activities, which are advertised in the regular coming events section of the classified ads will be included, with a brief reference to event, place and time.

The second purpose of this community calendar service is to provide a central information agency, through which organizations can avoid conflict of major events, which may might want to attend. It will be gradually established that as far ahead as possible, the News-Argus will have a calendar of planned events, of which it is notified. Then, if there is some group planning to hold an event two or three months or more hence, by a simple call at the office or by telephone, it will be easy to find out what is available as far as dates are concerned.

It is proposed to begin this calendar with the first issue in May. We are soliciting the support and cooperation of all groups that wish to avail themselves of this service to contact the office between now and April 17, so we can set up the first one.

At the outset, the charge for non-advertised events will be 50¢ per meeting, or $5.00 per year. Any individual or group that wishes more information is asked to contact the publisher in person or at 395-3321. Remember, the secret of success of this venture will be ADVANCE information. In this manner, we hope to stimulate interest in more events, make more people aware of just what is happening in various community groups, and also perhaps encourage better attendance at some functions.

Parents' Role

Donald Williams, last year's chairman of Hastings County board of education, favors large consolidated schools and wouldn't go back to the little red schoolhouse. But in his speech from Bancroft opening Education Week in north Hastings, he admitted something is missing.

It's the personal touch. Loss of identity in large schools, both teachers and students, is the most serious problem of consolidation, he said.

Speaking on the theme of Education Week—human values in education—Mr. Williams said teachers must see students as people.

"There is no place in our classroom for sarcasm or ridicule," he warned. "A teacher's actions are his textbooks."

Special Events Held At Schools

Education week is being observed across Ontario this week, and as part of the program, the Stirling-Marsh Hill Public School Unit has planned a series of special activities.

At the Junior Public School Monday, T. Wayne Martin of the local office of the Ministry of Agriculture and Food spoke on "Farming in Hastings County." Tuesday Mrs. Bryant spoke on "Proper Diet."

Wednesday Mr. Arnold Quicke spoke about Dairy Processing, and Thursday there is planned a Nutritional Tea.

Monday at the Senior School there was a film shown entitled "Helicopter Canada."

and Rev. W. C. Cox spoke on Eastern Canada; Tuesday Mr. Bird spoke on Alaska, and Wednesday Mrs. Hogle gave a talk on Western Canada. Thursday there will be an excursion to Toronto International Airport, the Planetarium and Royal Ontario Museum.

The theme for this week is Human Values in Education. All the parents were informed of these activities by a newsletter last week, and Principal George H. Patton urged them to attend the various activities to see how their children are promoting this special week.

Stirling Trails In Finals 2-1

Bruce Martin fired two goals in the last 30 seconds of regulation time in Hagersville Sunday as Six Nations defeated Stirling 4-2 in OMAHA Midget DD Provincial final action. Stan Myers and Kevin Solmes were the goal scorers for Stirling.

Six Nations now leads the best of five final 2-1 with the fourth game slated for Trenton Community Gardens Friday night at 8 p.m.

Friday night at Trenton, Stirling tied the series 1-1 with a close 2-1 win. Glen Dettler learned the puck from the left corner out to Kevin Solmes, situated just inside the blue line. Solmes fired it past Six Nations goalie catching the lower corner of the net on the goalie's glove side. Stan Myers tipped in Stirling's other tally after carrying the puck out of his own end and passing it to Solmes who shot the puck allowing Myers to deflect it in. Brian Martin carried the puck and fired it past Stirling goalie, Richard Whatam to pick up Six Nations' tally in the final minutes of the third period.

Sorry About That Friend

Never on Sunday may hold true for the Greeks but the tune didn't apply to two parishioners of St. Paul's Church here in Stirling last Sunday.

Donald Russell, Campbellford, and Mrs. Pearl Bonter, Hagersville, emerged from the church Sunday afternoon to find their cars in contact on the parking lot.

Apparently Mr. Russell's car rolled down an incline into the side of Mrs. Bonter's car, causing a $50 dent. Mr. Russell's car was not damaged.

Prior to her marriage, Suzanne was honoured at a miscellaneous shower by Suzanne Oosting and Bev. Mumby, R. Hon. Member for Prince Albert, Mr. John Diefenbaker, on the occasion of the 33rd anniversary of his election to the House of Commons. Mr. Stanfield, the Prime Minister, and others spoke eloquently of the many years of service to the Canadian Public by the Dean of Parliament, Mr. Diefenbaker, in his finest form ever, replied in a short, but moving speech on the importance of Parliament to the freedom of Canada.

Two of the more important bills passed by this Parliament concern the Old Age Security Benefits and Veterans Allowances. Both of these pensions were increased by unanimous consent of all parties. Brochures outlining the increases in detail will be available in the very near future. If you wish more information, just send a piece of paper with your name and address and which pension you are interested in to me at the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa. You do not require a stamp on the envelope and I will send you the information at once. In the meantime, some of the changes in the pensions are listed for your information:

By now, you will perhaps have seen notices in the County papers that I will be available for discussion on various Saturdays throughout the Riding. I promised this in my last news- letter and I hope to meet a number of people in this way. I will be in Bancroft on April 14th from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at Alan Bronson's Office if you wish to contact me.

In this and other ways, I intend to keep up my efforts to serve you better.

School Bus Law Clarified Again

It appears as though persons using Highway #2 (the four lane section) between Belleville and Trenton are not familiar with the law in regards to meeting or overtaking school buses.

The requirements are set out in Section 120 of the Highway Traffic Act of Ontario. In this section "School Bus" means a motor vehicle used for the transportation of children to and from school that:

a) bears on the rear thereof the words "do not pass when signals flashing" and b) is equipped with two red signal lights on the rear thereof and two red signal lights on the front thereof as required by the regulations.

The duties of a driver when a school bus is stopped on a highway or part of a highway on which maximum speed is greater than 35 m.p.h. for the purpose of receiving or discharging school children are as follows:

a) Overtaking a school bus on which the words "do not pass when signals flashing" are marked and two red signal lights are illuminated by intermittent flashes; and b) when meeting on such a highway with a median strip a school bus on the front of which two red signal lights are illuminated with intermittent flashes shall stop the vehicle before reaching the school bus and shall not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or the signal lights are no longer in operation.

The driver of the school bus is required to activate the signal lights when he is about to stop for the purpose of receiving or discharging school children. In the case of such a highway that does not have separate roadways, until those children who of necessity must cross the highway have completed the crossing.

Minister's Message

Each spring for the past 10 years, Ontario has celebrated Education Week to promote closer co-operation between the schools and the communities that support them, and to encourage parents to see for themselves the kind of education their children receive. This year Education Week began on April 8.

Although many schools in Ontario now have programs that involve parents in a variety of activities on a regular, year-round basis, this is traditionally a time when special events are offered for parents and the general public. These activities deserve strong support.

Our children spend close to 1,000 hours a year in school, but sometimes parents don't know enough about the schools they attend. Many aspects of education have changed since we were students, and while proven principles of teaching still prevail, parents naturally have questions about the kind of education provided for their children.

How are my children learning to read and write? How does the training they receive help prepare them for the adult world? Are they progressing quickly enough? Most important, what can I do, as a parent, to help my children progress? These are serious and important questions. The place to find the answers is in school.

As Minister of Education, I know that our school system is among the best in North America, a fact that is readily acknowledged by educators all across the continent. But as good as our schools are, they can only improve with the active and informed interest of parents and the general public. Education Week may offer a special opportunity to visit your child's school and to talk to the dedicated men and women who teach there. I will be visiting the school my children attend and I urge parents across the province to do the same.

Witnesses Plan Port Hope Meet

Jehovah's witnesses from the Stirling region are making final preparations to attend their semi-annual circuit assembly this week at the Port Hope High School, announced Mr. John Orser, a local spokesman for the group.

It is expected that about 800 delegates from the Peterborough, Bancroft and Trenton areas will be traveling to this convention.

Mr. Orser said, "As the scene of this world continues to degenerate, Jehovah's witnesses recognize a growing urgency to gather together." "There exists a danger to all, especially to younger persons, because there is a ferment everywhere for a 'change'." Many seeking changes are doubtless honest persons seeing corruption and injustice and wanting something better, Orser added. "Christians will recognize that their Creator has an appointed time to make the necessary changes. This planned change as outlined in His Word, will be a lasting rulership by God."

"Happily the time for this change is very near at hand," Orser said. The theme for their convention is "Do all things for God's Glory," and will highlight by means of demonstration, discussion and discussion the value and practicality of applying Bible principles in everyday problems of life along with congregational organization.

Sore throat?

Chew Aspergum. Aspergum's medically recognized pain reliever effectively soothes the sorest throat. And it's so easy to take, children like it too. For soothing relief from a sore throat, chew Aspergum Cherry or Aspergum Orange. It helps.

John Bradshaw says:

"Summer lawn weeds? Use CIL Weed and Feed. I use it."

"You'll find a lot of products called 'weed and feed' on sale, but the one I recommend comes from CIL.

"It won't burn the lawn, and takes out just about any broadleaf weed you'll find. And those tough, woody creeping weeds too.

"If you'd like my complete guide for the perfect lawn, talk to the CIL dealer below. He can really help you."

The locomotives were coupled together and after running about ten yards the front engine went into the ditch on the south side of the track. The front trucks of the rear engine were all that left the track, and after a couple of hours' hard work was again on the rails. The front engine was entirely in the ditch and help was immediately sent for. At 11 o'clock an auxiliary crew of nearly 50 men arrived and at 2 p.m. the wrecked engine was put on the rails and started for Stirling.

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

THE BOY'S SPEECH THAT MADE A GREAT STATESMAN

Among America's statesmen, none is more renowned than Cordell Hull, expert on taxation problems and wartime Secretary of State. But for a debate in which he took part when a schoolboy of fourteen, he might have remained unknown at his home in Tennessee! Here is the story of a boy's speech that produced a great politician.

Cordell Hull was one of five sons. His father, Billy Hull, was a farmer and trader who had married a part Indian girl from Virginia. They lived twelve miles from a small town in the hills of Tennessee. Cordell was the third son.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidmer Demorest entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ormel MacMullen and David, of Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy MacMullen, of Mount Pleasant.

A brush fire in the vicinity of H.C. Bird's slaughterhouse, Oak Lake, created considerable excitement about noon on Monday. An alarm was turned in and a number of Stirling firemen and farmers responded. Armed with shovels they attacked the blaze, which had gained considerable headway, and were able to bring it under control before any extensive damage was done.

The Maple Leaf Mission Band of St. Andrew's church has raised twenty-five dollars for home missions in less than three months, and in addition have presented to the school room equipment two large Rochester lamps. This society is officed entirely by boys and girls between the ages of six and fourteen.

The sons did the farm chores and now and then helped their father float logs down the river to Nashville. The future Secretary of State was seventeen years old before he saw a railroad train!

The father of the five boys decided that one of them should have a college education. More than one was out of the question and it was going to be a difficult matter to decide which one of his boys should continue his schooling and prepare himself for the competition of the world beyond the hills of their home.

"Cord," as his father called him, tried to think of some way by which he could prove that he would profit most from a college education. He joined a group at a nearby school that held debates.

"God is a first-rate acoustical engineer. We have been more inept."

The speaker was composer Harry Freedman, one of four panelists at a Town Hall meeting on noise in Toronto's St. Lawrence Centre.

He explained: "It's interesting to consider that while the voice can be raised to quite a loud level, at no time can it be raised beyond the level where it might endanger the ear."

He described the electronic amplifier as "a potentially lethal weapon."

His comments and the meeting followed Environment Minister James Auld's announcements in London last month of noise regulations for Ontario which go into effect starting this year.

Studies indicate that noise levels in urban centres are doubling every decade, and the Ministry is becoming increasingly concerned about the effects of prolonged exposure to a noisy environment.

There are several broad categories of noise sources: Vehicular traffic, aircraft and railroad traffic, stationary sources - this includes not only factories and businesses but air conditioners and other home conveniences like power mowers and kitchen appliances, nuisance noises and recreational devices.

DR. A'S MINI-TALES

Mr. Popp's and a Robber

Mr. Popp's was losing all his customers. He couldn't clean clothes as fast or as cheaply as the new Super-Lauderette across the street. Now he was trying to think of ways to get people to come to his store again. He even invented a new kind of spray starch. But it made clothes so stiff they were harder than steel. One night, when Mr. Popp's was working late, a robber broke into his shop. He tied up Mr. Popp's and then punched a hole through the wall of the shop - right into the bank next door. "I must get help somehow," thought Mr. Popp's. He managed to reach the iron and burned through his ropes. But before he could get to the telephone to call the police, the robber started to crawl back through the hole. When he saw Mr. Popp's untied, he reached for his gun. So Mr. Popp's did the only thing he could think of. He grabbed the spray gun and squirted the robber with starch! Instantly the robber's clothes got stiff. He couldn't move at all. He was still stuck in the hole when the police came to get him. The bank gave Mr. Popp's a big reward for catching the robber. He used the money to buy a fast new laundry machine for his store. And soon he had more customers than ever.

Letter to the editor

Stirling, Ontario,
April 9, 1973.

Dear Sir:

As president of the curling club for the past year I wish to clarify the remark in the editorial of April 4th that "with- out curling involved the new facility could be rented some of the time and realize additional revenue."

The curling club contributes $2200.00 to the rink committee which amount to approximately $15.00 per hour for the ice time used.

The rink committee and the Minor Hockey committee have always been most agreeable to the schedule presented at the beginning of the season.

This project was a community effort built by the community, for the community and, I feel, should be used by this community, if so desired, in preference to outside municipalities.

John Sheridan

Editor's Note: We did not mean to imply that the curling club did not pay its way. What was meant was that the time lost by curling could be rented, and perhaps the curlers could make full time use of the present facilities, which might be adequate for them, while not capable of handling both without extensive repairs.

Couple wed 40 years ago

Mr. and Mrs. Murney Johnston entertained 45 relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thompson on Thursday evening, April 5th, on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Craig Watson acted as master of ceremonies and after a few remarks several musical numbers were enjoyed and a mock wedding presented by a group of the guests, which proved hilarious. Later the honored couple were presented with many beautiful gifts and cards for which they expressed thanks, and also special thanks to Vera and Murray for arranging the gathering.

A delicious catered lunch was served which brought an enjoyable evening to a close. Guests were present from Buffalo, N.Y., Toronto, Trenton, Campbellville, Picton, Belleville and Stirling.

On Sunday evening, April 8th, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Watson, Belleville, entertained the sisters and brothers and their families to a turkey dinner in honor of the couple's anniversary. After dinner Mr. Glenn Watson expressed good wishes on behalf of the family to Ollie and Leslie and presented a gift, for which the couple spoke words of appreciation. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed with music and visiting.

Weekly Meditation

CONTRIBUTED BY STIRLING CLERGYMEN

(By W.C. Cox)
Jesus didn't want to die! Nobody wants to die at 33. He knew what crucifixion was like. But the cross would save all its value if it had been easy. He compelled himself to go on to the end and he saw the cross not as defeat but as victory. God was his Father and he accepted the way of his Father for his life even if it led to the cross. To the end Jesus would neither turn aside nor turn back.

What happened on the cross is central to our faith. It was something done for us. But Jesus not only gave his life for us, he calls us to follow him. Can we follow him, live as he lived, loyal to the Father, turning neither aside nor back, but always going on with the Father? Bishop Steven F. Bayne said "The job of the Christian is to be Christ in our time and place, within the limits of our finitude, within the limits of our sin, but still to be Christ the friend, and so to make Him known, loved and believed in."

90 Years Young Couple celebrate 50th anniversary

Friends and relatives from Toronto, Scarborough, Peterborough, Kingston, Trenton, Port Hope, Campbellford, Oshawa, Marmora and Stirling came to help Mr. Green celebrate his 90th birthday. The reception was held at St. Paul's United Church Hall, Stirling.

Mr. Green is now a resident at Tower's Nursing Home, Stirling.

Mr. Green was a former resident of the Rawdon and Stirling area. He was born on April 10, 1883, son of the late Lewis Green and Mary Anne McNaghy of the 5th concession of Rawdon.

He has been a resident of Marmora for the past 45 years.

Mr. Green was predeceased by his wife, the former Ivah Reid. He has three sons, two daughters and 12 grandchildren.

Mr. Green also has one sister living, Mrs. Daniel Henderson (Kate) who celebrated her 95th birthday in January.

The I.O.D.E. held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Eugene Burrell on Thursday, March 29, 1973. The Regent, Mrs. Carl Bosiak, opened the meeting with the prayer of the order. Mrs. Robert Burgess read the minutes of the last meeting which was approved. Miss Gena Spry called the roll, which was answered with 12 members and one visitor. Miss Rosa Spry gave her treasurer's report and Mrs. Carman Fitchett gave her service secretary report.

New business was then attended to. The members all volunteered to help the Rangers make candy for the Girl Guide Afternoon Tea which is to be held in Belleville, Tuesday, April 10.

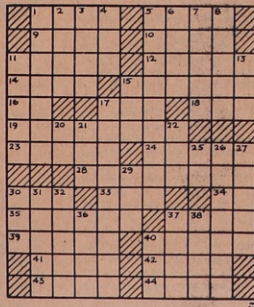

Mrs. Donald Rodgers gave a reading on Communism, and was much enjoyed. Mrs. Bosiak then showed slides of the trip she and Mr. Bosiak took down East which were enjoyed by everybody. The Regent then closed the meeting with all singing the Queen.

Mrs. Burrell and her committee served a lovely lunch of strawberries and ice cream and Mrs. Everett Cooke moved a vote of thanks.

A large attendance of friends, neighbors and relatives were greeted at the door by two grandsons, Craig Richards and Rodney Bush. The guests signed the book and spent a social half hour with the happy couple. Later they were served refreshments by the family Keitha, Norma and Maxie and grandchildren. Also assisting were two nieces, A. Eline Bush and Eleanor Bush.

Public Relations Report From River Valley W.I.

April 5th, 1973
 (By Mrs. Percy MacMullen, P.R.O., River Valley W.I.)

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following report is the final one prepared by Mrs. Percy MacMullen as Public Relations Officer for the River Valley W.I. She is leaving this office after 23 years reporting the activities of the group on behalf of the Stirling News-Argus and several other area newspapers. In 1950 she proposed the Crest Column which appears each week. While we do not normally publish such annual reports, we feel such effort deserves recognition at this time.

Public Relations is the organized effort of the Women's Institute to integrate itself effectively into the Community. If the Conventor arranges a good program then the P.R.O. can do the rest and write a good press report. Public Relations builds respect, goodwill, co-operation and good communications. This department cultivates friendly attitudes toward members of the society and the whole community.

The Federated Women's Institutes want to know what you are doing for your own organization, provincial, national and A.C.W.W. They also want to know what each Branch does for their own educational and community projects. When all of these reports are compiled in Toronto they have an overall picture of institute work in Ontario.

They are not interested in caretaking, printed programs, reports and the general upkeep of each Branch Institute. They encourage the idea of giving money to charities.

They do approve of gifts to sponsor a child, Scouts, Guides and Brownies, several clubs, Legion, Consumers' Association of Canada and Health organizations. These are just suggestions only, and F.W.I.O. is not necessarily endorsing Branches to donate to these groups. Institute women should have good judgement and use their money to promote their own organization.

River Valley has had a successful year with four life members. We catered for O. S. D. luncheon, Donohoe wedding, Scout District banquet, Hunters banquet at Fish and Game Club, 50th wedding anniversary for Clifford and Mabel Hubble, Legion New Year's Eve Party and Ladies' Night banquet at Fish and Game Club. Short items of all have been published.

In 1950 it was my idea to have a paid corner in the News-Argus and I offered to be responsible for it. There is institute news in all issues with poems at Easter and Christmas. From April 1, 1972 to March 31, 1973 have reported 11 regular meetings in the News-Argus. Special thanks to Evva Tucker who kindly did the March 1973 meeting. I also reported July picnic, December pot luck supper, Food Forum "A Dollar's Worth of Meat," Sr. Training course "Ontario Fruit" in January and Summary Day at Ivanhoe. Special items were written by speakers Robert Ord and Wayne Martin. Evva's report of 75th Anniversary at Royal York Hotel, Toronto, demonstrations by two 4-H Clubs, Eugene Burrell and his china and silvery display, hobbies shown by our own members. My own story of "The Marmarion Mine" and my outline of the work of "The Federated Institutes of Canada in the North-West Territories." I have reported 16 card parties which netted the treasurers $203.00. This is a total of almost 50 items of institute news in the Stirling News-Argus for the year.

At this time I would like to thank the Institute for my $5,000 honorarium and I'll invest it in a special book, I would also suggest that a secretary write Editor Jones a message of thanks for the newspaper space. I have thoroughly enjoyed the office of Public Relations for the past 23 years and I have always appreciated my trip to the Guelph Officers Conference to learn about this new department of work.

As a reporter for the Belleville Daily I have also sent several items to that paper. Last year Mrs. M. Pardy, Editor of Home and Country, asked that each Branch send newspaper clippings. In June I sent April and May clippings and my report in the Argus re Hastings West District. In September I forwarded June, July and August. In November I sent September, October and November. In January 1973 I sent pot luck supper, December and January. That was four letters sent and I received two letters of thanks from Mrs. Pardy.

The Friendship Link Department was instituted in 1939 with Abbot's Leigh W.I. in England and Mrs. Ed Heasman sent the Food parcels. In a 1949 scrap book it states that Miss Anna P. Lewis, director of the Home Economic Service, stated at the Trent Valley Area Convention that 80 institutes in England had been adopted by Ontario Branches and they are called "Friendship Links." During the year I have sent Mrs. E. Coombs six airmail letters, all of the institute clippings till February of this year. The Home and Country books, our program, a recipe book received at Ivanhoe and several other leaflets, etc. I distributed their Christmas gift of homemade lavender sachet bags to all our members at Christmas and I wrote a message of thanks when the parcel arrived. I mailed our parcel of note books with Ontario Emblems on the cover on November 7th. In arrived in England on December 28th and was distributed at their January meeting. They were pleased with their gifts and I read the letters at our January meeting. May I suggest that your 1973 parcel be mailed early in October in order for it to arrive in time for their Christmas meeting. On February 16th I received a parcel of clippings and their program and financial statement

These were displayed. The Donations Report is as follows: Institute projects - Friendship Link and Pennies for Friendship $36.66, W.I. Educational - delegates to various meetings, several 4-H training, Tweedsmuir Historical, gifts to speakers, etc. $21.75. Educational Community projects - Historical membership, Agricultural Fair, paid corner in News-Argus $22.00. Christmas cheer parcels, gifts to folk in hospital and cards $24.25. Upkeep of W.I. Centre, swimming for children, watermelons for picnic $786.66, a grand total of $1,085.61. River Valley W.I. has had a very successful year. Mrs. MacMullen also displayed two books - "A History of the Settlement of Testin in the Yukon," and "The Pictorial History of the Associated Countrywomen of the World."

Dental Topics

There is no reason why a normal healthy mother's teeth should be harmed by a pregnancy. Tooth decay during the period of pregnancy or nursing of a child—as at any other time—is evidence that proper health essentials are not being observed, or that there is some abnormality.

Once a pregnancy is determined, your dentist should become a member of the expected new arrival's health team. Good oral hygiene habits and attention given to repair.

Following your physician's instructions on diet, cleanliness, exercise, recreation, fresh air and plenty of rest, help to create a peaceful and happy state of mind and a reasonable pregnancy.

PRECIOUS METALS PRESERVE PRECIOUS TEETH
When decay begins in a tooth, it invariably spreads and never heals by itself. The best remedy is to fill the tooth. If this isn't done, the tooth structure will be eaten away causing pain. The type of filling needed depends on the size of the cavity and the location of the decay. Some filling materials are more costly than others, but there are other things besides preservation of the tooth to consider.

For example, while a gold filling will better preserve the tooth structure, most people would prefer a white one for the front teeth for a better appearance.
A silver amalgam filling in a back tooth may serve just as adequately as a gold one and at a considerably lower cost to the individual.
Some teeth may be too far gone for fillings, in which case your dentist may suggest that they be capped or crowned. Before suggesting the type of treatment your dentist would consider such things as appearance, cost, your oral hygiene and how long you're likely to keep the teeth involved.

You Can Control Powdery Mildew

If you should glance casually at the plants in your garden, street, or nearby park in the summer or fall, it won't be long before you notice leaves covered with a white powder. You might see it on your lawn, on vegetables such as peas and cucumbers, on your roses and phlox, or on dandelions and other weeds. The white powder is in fact a small fungus growing on the leaves. The disease it causes is called powdery mildew and infected leaves are eventually killed by the fungus. Stems, buds, and fruits may also become infected and die.

Powdery mildew occurs on many plants throughout the temperate areas of the world. Agricultural crops that are affected include grapes, apples, many vegetables, especially cucumbers and almost 100 species of grains and grasses. Many ornamental plants also become disfigured by the disease. The disease is therefore of concern to farmers, horticulturists, nurserymen and the home gardener.

The disease is most prevalent when nights are cool and moist, and days are warm and dry. This is due primarily to the effect of moisture on the development of the fungus. The fungus spores will not germinate in a film of water, but do so when the relative humidity is high. Rainy weather does not favor infection. The fungus enters the leaf and eventually produces another crop of spores. These are produced abundantly in dry weather and are spread to other plants by the wind.
The fungus can survive the winter in temperate climates by growing on weeds. In cold climates the fungus spends the winter mainly within the dead remains of infected plants. It produces spores in the spring which cause infections in growing plants.

Since this plant disease is so widespread and disfigures so many plants, much attention has been given to ways of controlling it. Mildew-resistant varieties of certain forage legumes and cereal grains are used commercially. However, control of the disease on most plants is usually achieved by using fungicides. In addition, it is useful to remove all mildewed plant material from the home garden to prevent a general buildup in the amount of fungus.

One of the most striking aspects of this disease is that most of the fungus is actually outside the plant. Only a few cells get inside the plant to feed. The exposed fungus on the surface of the plant is therefore easily treated with a fungicide. Sulfur dusts and sprays have, for many years, provided cheap and effective control of powdery mildew. Sulfur easily forms a vapor and therefore does not have to be dissolved in water to kill the fungus. Recently, organic fungicides have been used in place of sulfur because they are as effective against the fungus, but less damaging to the plant. One of the earliest organic compounds to be tried was Captan. This is a widely used fungicide and useful for a wide range of plant diseases, but it is unfortunately not very effective against powdery mildew.

Probably the most commonly used organic fungicide for control of powdery mildew at present is Karathane, used at the rate of one teaspoon per gallon of water at 7-10 day intervals. This material is suitable for use on a wide range of plants, including those grown inside the house and in the home garden. Other commonly recommended material is Actidione; its active ingredient is the antibiotic cycloheximide. Other fungicides have been recommended for powdery mildew on particular plants, such as Phaltan for use on grapes and roses, and Phymar for use on apples.

Powdery mildew usually affects turf only in shaded areas and rarely does much harm. All grasses are affected, but the disease is especially prevalent on Merion bluegrass. It is difficult to eradicate from turf, but control can be achieved by spraying with Karathane or Actidione over the period July to September. Chemical treatment of the home lawn is rarely necessary. If the lawn is kept to a height of two inches or less, powdery mildew won't be much of a problem. If powdery mildew occurs on leafy ornamental house plants, control can be achieved by reducing the humidity (move plants to a better ventilated place), avoiding overhead watering (to keep the leaves dry), and using Karathane.

Since control of the disease is largely based on the use of fungicides, current research is directed towards finding more effective materials.

TREMEUDOUS TRIFLES

THE SENSELESS ARGUMENT THAT ENDED DUELING

Dueling was an accepted method of settling arguments until shortly before the War between the States, when a senseless argument between two members of Congress forced an end to the practice.

In most of the larger cities of the country during the early 19th century, dueling grounds were established and frequently used. Ducks were fought for almost any reason, from love affairs and political arguments, to trifling differences of opinion. Duelists included some of our Nation's most famous leaders. Alexander Hamilton, Aaron Burr, Stephen Decatur, Henry Clay and Andrew Jackson. Jackson's duel almost involved a disputed bet over a horse-race and ended in a reputed insult to Jackson's wife. Jackson was wounded in the shoulder. Dickinson, his opponent, was killed.

Such unsavory incidents increased to the point where public opinion became outraged. Then Congressman Graves of Kentucky killed Congressman Cilley of Maine in a duel at the Bladensburg (near Washington, D.C.) dueling grounds and popular opinion forced a law through Congress which forever banned the "sport of gentlemen" from this country.

The Graves-Cilley duel was probably one of the most senseless of all those fought at Bladensburg. In the course of a discussion held in the House of Representatives, Cilley charged that a New York editor named Webb had made improper use of money in public affairs. Webb, highly incensed, demanded retraction. The Congressman claimed that he had the right of freedom during debate on public matters and declined to meet Webb.

The New York editor then persuaded Congressman Graves to demand satisfaction of Cilley. Graves tried, but again the Maine representative refused to retract.

Unsatisfied—and now with his own temper rising—Graves challenged Cilley. The two agreed on rifles at 30 paces. The next morning they appeared at the Bladensburg dueling grounds where two rounds were fired by both parties without success. Between rounds the seconds urged their principals to reconsider. Both refused.

Then on the third round, Graves' bullet pierced Cilley's heart!

Graves and Webb won their point, but brought an end to a custom over 100 years old. An indignant Congress swiftly passed the anti-dueling law which is still in effect today.

Compensation talk

A vital consideration in determining eligibility for benefits under Ontario's Workmen's Compensation system is establishing that injury is the result of an incident "arising out of and in the course of employment". On the surface a relatively straightforward provision, its correct interpretation is fundamental to fair application of Workmen's Compensation.

Fair application in this instance requires not only that workmen be adequately protected but also that employers, who finance the system through their contributions, are not saddled with costs for conditions which are not the result of employment.

In general coverage extends to anything connected with performance of the task for which the worker was hired or to which he has been assigned, including an activity which may not have been specifically designated but which might reasonably be undertaken in connection with his duties.

If the worker acts reasonably and in good faith attempting to do what he believes to be in the best interest of his employer, the fact he may to some degree exceed his instructions or go outside the strict limits of ordinary duty does not necessarily deprive him of Workmen's Compensation coverage.

Broad as the above interpretation may appear, it is not an unlimited blanket extending Workmen's Compensation protection to every conceivable eventuality.

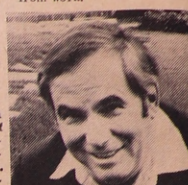

A worker whose injury is caused solely by his own serious and wilful misconduct is not entitled to compensation unless the injury results in death or serious disablement. Likewise, injuries suffered while engaged in horseplay or as a result of a fight are not considered to arise out of employment. However, there have been rulings under which workers injured as a result of horseplay in which they did not participate, or fights in which they either did not initiate or were in fact innocent victims, have received Workmen's Compensation benefits.

Where there is any question the injury-causing incident is one arising out of and in the course of employment, a decision on eligibility is not infrequently an extremely delicate matter which can be resolved justly only after careful examination of reports covering every aspect of a particular case. In such instances it is very important the incident be reported in detail, and also as soon after the occurrence as possible so that an enquiry may be carried out while events are fresh in the minds of witnesses and physical evidence may be examined first hand.

The general coverage of activities described above extends to the entire time a worker spends at his place of work or jobsite, including intervals of leisure such as regular breaks and lunch periods. Workmen's Compensation coverage is considered to be on the employer's property or jobsite and to cease when he departs. Here again the interpretation, for Workmen's Compensation purposes, is a broad one covering such eventualities as an injury which occurs during a visit to pick up wages or other such occasions not directly connected with regular work routine. Coverage does not extend to the journey to and from work unless transportation is furnished in a conveyance under the control and supervision of the employer, or owned or chartered by him. The latter does not include the vehicle of a worker who is receiving mileage allowance from his employer merely for the purposes of transportation to and from work.

John Bradshaw says:

"Summer lawn weeds? Use CIL Weed and Feed. I use it."

"You'll find a lot of products called 'weed and feed' on sale, but the one I recommend comes from CIL.

"It won't burn the lawn, and takes out just about any broadleaf weed you'll find. And those tough, woody creeping weeds too.

"If you'd like my complete guide for the perfect lawn, talk to the CIL dealer below. He can really help you."

Easter GREETINGS

The Christian calendar undergoes its most serious convulsion this weekend, as the concepts of physical death and ultimate survival over it and sin, command the centre stage of religious life. It is a time of agony, as the story of the Crucifixion unfolds on Friday, and at the same moment an hour of triumph and glory, as Jesus Christ comes to Mary Magdalene in the garden, living evidence of His atonement.

Most of the world pictures Easter as a time for new clothes, perhaps a new suit, and generally sprucing up things. After all, it comes not long after the arrival of spring, and after the drudgery of winter, it is only human to want to cast off the drags of winter clothing and look forward with anticipation to the coming summer and the joy it brings.

This also is the Easter story, if you read carefully the accounts in the New Testament, that fulfil the prophecy of the Old. The doctrine of redeeming grace, able to be achieved only by a sinless sacrifice, was something passed down from the time of Moses. The Jews still look for that Messiah, believing him to be a deliverer from physical oppression, rather than the medium of freeing men's minds from eternal bondage under the leadership and direction of Satan.

No man before or since, walked this earth in sinless form, and after death, returned to proclaim his victory. No man was able to endure the temptations or sufferings, with as little evidence of pain. No man was able to command the attention of others, and speak truths in such simple language, that even the most illiterate could understand. No man was able to commune with God and carry out the wishes of his father, to the extent that it cost him his life.

Scholars had tried every type of analysis to determine how such a supposedly advanced society as the Empire of Rome was, could condone the mockery of justice that was the arrest, trial, and execution of this Man who never did anything more violent than put healing mud on a blind man's eyes or say anything more violent than "Love your neighbor as yourself." We let men and women walk the streets today who are accused of more serious offences, and even without posting bail.

Viewed from every possible angle, this happening in history, which turned the world on a new course, can only be considered in the light of God's will. We are challenged at every hand that none came to help. Even though armies were promised, their help was refused. He was looking for the help of the heart, not the aid from the sword.

As we march further and further into the realms of unknown space, created by the same God that allowed the agony and ecstasy of Easter to happen, in His own time, we should be aware that there is a Divine Plan for this and any other world which may support human life. The human mind and intelligence cannot grasp the infinite glories of space, any more than it can comprehend the mysteries of the atom.

As we come to another Easter, and this focal point of human history is brought pointedly before us, let the joy that is His reign supreme, and never again will worry over space or the future be among the elements that clutter every day living.

Henny Wants Some Chicks

Henny was Farmer Berg's prize hen. She laid the biggest eggs of all. Now she wanted to hatch some chicks. But each morning, Farmer Berg made his son Peter take Henny's new egg away. Peter loved Henny and wanted to help her. But when he tried leaving her eggs, his father found out and spanked him. So the next day, when the farmer left the gate open for a minute, Henny sneaked out of the chicken yard. She ran deep into the woods and made a nest. Soon she had three fine eggs in her nest. But when she went to get a drink of water, a skunk found her nest and ate the eggs. Henny built a new nest and laid some more eggs. But one night a weasel smelled her. He sneaked up, and Snap! The weasel almost got Henny. She flew up to a tree branch just in time. All the weasel had was a mouth full of feathers - and a nest full of eggs. The next day Henny went back to the farm. Farmer Berg was so glad to have his prize hen back again that he decided to let her raise a family after all. Soon Henny had eight fluffy chicks. And they all grew up to be champion hens like their mother Henny.

Keeping it clean

with Bill Dodds

The waste land... There are estimates in some quarters that our garbage output in North America will triple over the next 30 years, unless something is done about it.

Of course you could look at that prediction as good news - an optimistic society. Our prosperity can be measured by the amount we throw away.

In underdeveloped countries, the garbage output is about two pounds per person per day. In Canada, our personal daily output of waste is about four pounds on the average.

I say on the average because a number of studies have shown that an affluent suburb produces more waste than a less privileged neighborhood.

At Environment Ontario we would like to point out that this is not a simple economic barometer. Instead of measuring our wealth in terms of our trash, we would like to break the throwaway cycle and put some of that waste to work.

Less waste might even lead us to more prosperity.

One plan being followed in Ontario is cutting off waste at the source, encouraging reusable containers and cutting down on throwaway packaging. Another is the reclamation of material and energy from waste. Environment Minister James Auld announced last week that he plans an experimental pilot plant in recycling. This is being discussed with Metropolitan Toronto and Environment Canada has been invited to take part in the experiment.

In addition, the waste management branch is conducting two studies this year on using waste as an energy source. One involves using ground garbage as a fuel additive in cement kilns and another proposes using it with coal or oil to produce electricity.

Waste management right now is in a position similar to that of water and sewage treatment 20 years ago, Mr. Auld said. He expects equally successful results from similar measures.

For some time Environment Ontario has been encouraging waste management planning with 50 percent provincial grants for area studies. There are seven of these studies under way and more about to begin.

The next step, which Environment Ontario hopes to start soon, is the provision of provincial loans to municipalities for capital expenditures resulting from the implementation of these area studies. This would be similar to the provincial loans now provided for sewage treatment plants.

All in all, the opportunities for improving waste management now are too good to waste.

Guide News

At our regular Guide meeting Tuesday night, we had lessons for our Home Nurse badge. We studied artificial respiration, daily charts, and reviewed the use of a thermometer.

Saturday we had further instruction with Mrs. Sager on how to make a bed properly, how to make a bed with a patient in it, and bed care of a patient.

Several girls are planning to go on hikes or camp out for various badges.

Good Tidings WMC meets

On Wednesday, April 11, the ladies of Good Tidings met in the basement of the church for their monthly meeting.

President Marjorie Forbes opened the meeting by thanking the ladies for joining with her and read a poem "Don't Quit." She then read Hebrews, Chapter 11, known as the chapter of faith. She then brought a few well chosen remarks on how we need faith for every day living; of how Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Sarah, and Moses had faith to believe God, and so it is today. If we but have faith the size of a grain of mustard seed we shall see great and mighty things wrought for God.

Mrs. Lee Smith read the Bulletin from Mrs. Rogers. Mrs. Ray Donnan read the minutes of last meeting and the offering was lifted. Prayer requests were then taken and Mrs. Melville Donnan, and Mrs. Clifford Elliott led in prayer.

BOWLING NEWS

Teen League

On April 13 the Alley Cats and the Gutters won a game each, and the Bits and Pieces and the Mid Slingers won a game each. Team standings are: Alley Cats 78 points, Mud Slingers and Bits and Pieces tied at 72 points each, and Gutters 48 points.

Sue Wright bowled the girl's high single and double with 248 and 438 and she also holds the high average at 203.

For the boys Paul Jones holds high average of 191, and he also bowled the high single of 279 and high triple of 441. Good games bowled were: Paul Jones 279, 162; Sharilyn Farrell 137, 158; Maureen Williams 206, 173; Steven Jones 164; Paula Royce 143; Sue Wright 248, 190; Shirley Goodman 166, 165; Rodney Bush 166, 167; Tim Whiteman 151; Janet Munro 148, 179; Terry McGee 141, 160; Joanne Valcher 166; Lynn Hoover 166, 164; Laurie Burns 189, 161; Wayne Lain 137, 164; Keith Wilson 181, 184; Sandra Williams 135; Marilyn Williams 141; Paul Munro 160; Faith Little 168, 208; Julie Hunter 162, 168.

Merrie Bowlers

The Bell Ringers are sure in a stew. The Meatheds have really gotten out of control, battling for two positions at once, and on the last day, Can you feature it taking the last day of bowling to place the teams? Well that's the way it is.

Bessie Hewton's Dingbats have been leading the way but this week when Isobel Hutchison's Belles took 5 points for a total of 115, leaving the Dingbats with 2 and a total of 107, the Dingbats lost their hope of finishing at the top. However, they and Lorna Wrightman's Meatheds will be fighting for second place, if the Meatheds don't defeat the Belles total for tops. Now, doesn't that sound confusing? The Meatheds captured 5 points for a total of 109 while Mildred Fraser's Dingalings just dinged up 2 points, for a total of 75. You just see the meat boycott has had no effect on the Meatheds. They were down for a long time, but once they started to move, "WOW!"

Everything else is seemingly tied up too, Helena Oosting and Barb Noble are tied with high average of 181. This week high single was 235, rolled by both Ruth Glover and Betty Hubble. Isobel Hutchison captured high triple of 653, with 216, 226 and 211.

Other over 200 games were rolled by Helena Oosting 204; Lillian Arbuckle 200; Doreen Ackles 203; Dilly Montgomerie 228; Flo Parsonson 218; and Ruth Glover 210.

Stirling Bantam and Junior

On Saturday, April 14 those determined Chargers bowled two beautiful games of 1310 and 1292 over their opponents the Centre Pins' 1089 and 1176 to gain another five points. The Hot Stuff had 1276 and 1121 over their opponents, the Go Getters' 1032 and 1091 for five points. The Triumphs had 1129 and 1219 over the Strikers' 1156 and 1116 to give them three points to the Strikers' two.

Points are really close other than the Strikers' 91; Triumphs 75; Go Getters 73; Hot Stuff 71; Chargers 70; and Centre Pins 67.

BANTAM - Girl's high-single Margaret Wilcox 148; high double Joanne Campbell 251; and high average Cheryl McGee 127.

Boy's high single and average Greg Gozzard 163 and 129; high double Richard Scea 276.

Other good games Richard Scea 166, 120; Joanne Campbell 146, 105; Kelee Chyppha 142; Jeff Whiteman 139, 120; Stephen Barrie 138, 109; Sandra Edgar 133, 103; Douglas Royce 131; Mark Montgomery 127, 117; Jane Aida 124, 112; Cheryl McGee 127, 116; Brian Clements 108; Stephen Wilson 108; Joyce Scea 118, 115; Mark Wilson 121; Jerry Aida 115; Marianne Flieler 117, 102; Janice Scea 102; Joey Hart 132; Don Boersma 108; and Annie Bonnin 105.

JUNIOR - Sherry Farrell bowled girl's high single 245, double 386 and Suzanne Jackett has high average 155. That 245 of Sherry's earned her a 100 pins over average crest. Ricky Clements had boy's high single 226, double 378 and average 189.

Other good games - Robby Clements 205; Judy Tucker 195; Dianna Barrie 189; Rodney McKeown 189, 150; Suzanne Jackett 176, 155; Kim Philp 160; Janice Reid 157; Ricky Boersma 170, 143; Heather Glendinning 161; Paulina Gozzard 160, 149; and Delani Chyppha 143.

Two Stirling Students Win

Some Stirling Elementary and Secondary School students found that 13 was a lucky number as that was the total of judges - Friday the 13th - who decided winners in the various categories of the annual Belleville Rotary Science Fair.

Two Stirling students from Centennial Secondary School, John Bissell and Tom Bryant, won first prize in their grade 11 categories. John took the first prize in the life sciences division with a display of light's effects on plant growth while Tom won first in the engineering division with a display of sonar as a possible aid to the blind.

Mark Wilson, grade eight student at Stirling Senior School, won second prize at the annual fair with his construction of a telescope. In the earth sciences junior grouping, Kathleen Blanchard, Susan Whattam and Julie Stephens won third prize with an exhibit on the solar system.

A number of other Stirling school students displayed exhibits at the annual Belleville Rotary fair but were not in the prize winners.

Stirling senior school exhibitors included Pearl Billard (dinosaurs); Steven Baldwin (human brain); Judy Tucker (prehistoric to domestic horses); Dave Billard (drugs); Kelly Boyle (early man); David Ridley (what is color); and Rob Maguire and Carl Weatherell (rockets).

In all fair organizers reported 157 displays entered by students from schools in Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox and Addington counties. For the event, the young entrants assembled an array of displays and demonstrations centered around this year's five themes: life, physical, earth, environmental sciences and engineering.

Couple are honored

Minto Community Hall was comfortably filled Thursday evening when relatives, neighbors and friends gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston before leaving for their new home in Stirling. Mr. Ross Kim acted as chairman and expressed regret in losing James and Wanda from the community, and also wished them many years of retired life. Mrs. Earl Ketchen led in community singing accompanied by Mr. Ken Lang. Readings were given by Mrs. Tom Clements, Mrs. Everett Sine and Mrs. Earl Ketchen. A guitar and piano duet was given by Roger and Roseanne McGee. Miss Kathy Ketchen gave a piano solo. Mrs. Goldie McIntroy sang two solos accompanied by Mrs. Bill Heath. Selma Lang also sang a solo accompanied by her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were then given seats of honor on the platform and Mrs. Lindsay Tanner read the address and they were presented with a swag lamp, a kitchen table and two chairs, a floral arrangement and a piece of blue mountain pottery. James and Wanda suitably replied thanking all who were responsible in any way for the gifts and invited everyone to visit them in their new home. "For they are jolly good fellows" was sung. Lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Cancer can be beaten.

APRIL IS CANCER SOCIETY MONTH

The phrase "Cancer can be beaten" is also a fact; yet somehow we don't incorporate it into our personality quite so easily. KNOWING that Cancer ISN'T a death sentence, that it is just another disease, and that people DO recover with treatment... becoming convinced of this takes a little time... and a little research. But until you convince yourself, you'll never convince anyone else, especially not someone who is frightened of pain and death... as a Cancer patient is.

THE HASTINGS COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION 1973 BUDGET

The Hastings County Board of Education has established an expenditure budget for 1973 in the amount of $24,492,000. The increase over the 1972 budget is only 8.8 per cent, the lowest percentage increase since County Boards came into being. The annual percentage increases have been drastically and gradually reduced from 17.5 per cent in 1969 to 8.8 per cent in 1973.

The budget meets the ceiling requirements of the Ministry of Education and of necessity is non-expansive. The restrictions imposed have required a re-ordering of priorities and the only new program introduced is "Curriculum Development". This is a direct outgrowth of the studies of the Board's Curriculum Understanding Committees undertaken during 1972 and is designed to follow-up in a number of areas of concern identified at that time.

The Ministry of Education has for the first time made available the limits on spending for two years, both 1973 and 1974. Because the additional amount available in 1974 will be considerably less than the additional amount available in 1973 - an estimated increase of about 4.5 per cent - and because it is unwise to build in costs and people in 1973 that would have to be eliminated in 1974, every economy has been implemented to reduce expenditures in all phases of accommodation and administration. In the Secondary Schools, despite these economies, it will not be possible to replace teachers who resign or retire, nor to hire the twelve additional teachers who would have been required based on formula application to predicted enrolments for September, 1973. This unfortunate change reduces the staff in Secondary Schools by 25 beginning September, 1973. Fortunately, through a combination of attrition and forward planning, it will not be necessary to discharge any teachers in Hastings during the current budget year.

The Trustees are aware that this staff reduction threatens the quality of learning that the Board has struggled to provide. The County is now back to a staff-pupil ratio that existed in 1969 when the Board was formed. The Trustees plan to co-operate with various groups in the County in approaching the Ministry of Education to request consideration of the educational and financial implications of the budget position, complicated by declining enrolments in the Elementary Schools and an accelerated "drop-out" rate in the Secondary Schools.

The Province's share of the total expenditure in Hastings County is up a fraction of a percent in 1973, in spite of press releases which indicated the Government would improve its proportion by 2 per cent. In 1972 the Ministry of Education infused the grant structure and produced an artificial tax reduction for most municipalities. This infusion has not taken place in 1973 and therefore the tax requirements are returning to their normal relative positions. Thus the tax requirements in 1973 compared with the more normal base of 1971 reveals an increase of only 5.1 per cent for two years, or an average increase of 2.6 per cent. This is illustrated in the schedule attached.

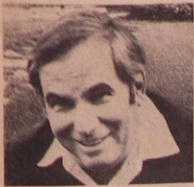

Of the 29 Municipalities in Hastings County, 16 are still enjoying a subsidy from the Ministry of Education. The subsidy is designed to restrict the rate of annual increase in mill rate in a municipality. The 1973 regulations accelerated the rate of increase allowed with the result that the relative increase in mill rates for municipalities without subsidies is greater than for those municipalities without subsidies. It is evident from the schedule attached that the 16 municipalities with subsidies are generally required to contribute at a smaller equalized mill rate than those municipalities without subsidies.

In summary, the Board has produced a non-expansive budget within the ceilings prescribed by the Ministry of Education, which retains the present status of the Elementary Schools, but imposes some unfortunate restrictions in the Secondary Schools. The implications for Trustees are summed up in the necessity to approach the Ministry. The implications for taxpayers are indicated by the example that on a dwelling with a $15,000, sale value, the increase in taxes for educational purposes will average $20 in 1973.

Stirling WI Meets

The April meeting of Stirling WI. was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clifford Clancy.

Mrs. E. Cooke welcomed all to the meeting. Mrs. John Senior called the roll with 25 paying their dues for a new term. This was followed with the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's statement.

The Food Forum and 4-H Achievement days were read out. The annual reports were then given and found favorable by Mrs. W. West and Mrs. H. Jones.

Mrs. R. Chambers expressed thanks for the history given by Mrs. E. Sine for the Tweedsmuir book. She also thanked Mrs. Cooke for the year's co-operation of members. Mrs. McInroy for her social committee's help as well as all members and Mrs. Aythart for the same generous help in quilt making.

The 1973-74 list of officers was then announced: Past President - Mrs. Clifford Clancy; President - Mrs. E. Cooke; 1st Vice - Mrs. G. McInroy; 2nd Vice - Mrs. E. Sine; Secretary - Mrs. A. Brooks; Treasurer - Mrs. A. Tanner; District Director - Mrs. M. Ward; Assist. - Mrs. M. Aythart; Branch Directors - Mrs. E. Broadworth, Mrs. O. Jackson and Mrs. E. New business consisted of a card party and the Bible to be given to Festival of Praise.

Mrs. Grills was supplied with cards and stamps for her office work.

A lot of quilt just completed was on display and will go to Mrs. Jason Fields of Georgetown.

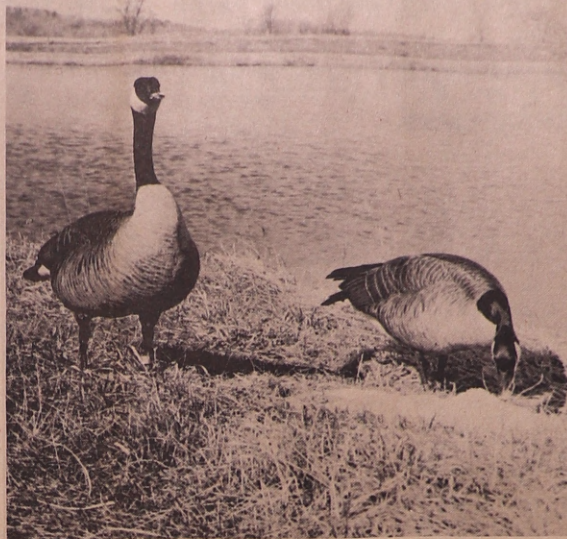

As Mrs. Tanner is hostess for the May meetings it was decided we have a pot luck dinner in the hall and celebrate the 4-H leaders to join with us.

Mrs. McInroy suggested each bring a small gift to the May meeting to have in readiness for the month the W.I. goes to Edward Street Manor to share in bingo.

Mrs. Bronson suggested each member bring one yard of print or broadcloth to the May meeting to be used for quilts.

Owing to the lengthy business meeting, the program prepared by Mrs. J. Ryan was shortened to a reading and contest by herself.

Following lunch, Mrs. B. Rodgers moved a vote of thanks to the hostess, lunch committee and program convensor.

Two banded geese couldn't decide last week whether they would spend the summer at Stirling lagoon or whether MAKING AN INDEFINITE STOP they would venture north with the rest of the flock. A nearby cornfield added to their temptation to stop.

Fearful of youthful hunters, a county game warden was called in to gather up the two persistent visitors.

Witnesses Met

The 981 delegates to the two-day Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Port Hope last weekend have now returned home again.

John Didur, a travelling representative of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society addressed a capacity audience on Sunday afternoon on the subject of Divine Rulership.

Rulership is of worldwide concern, which is evident from the attention devoted to politics in the news media and the lengths to which some people go to influence or replace rulers, he stated in his opening remarks, adding that it might be easy to give verbal acknowledgment of God's rulership over the whole universe but that Christians must manifest the significance of that rulership in their daily lives.

Divine standards on personal morality, family life, and our dealings with others are no secret, Didur pointed out.

Holds Key '73 Workshop

Representatives of the various localities of the Belleville Presbyterian U.C.W. met at Trinity United Church, Belleville on Thursday, April 12 for a workshop on Key 73. Miss Helen Sexsmith, the president, welcomed everyone to the workshop. She said she was not disappointed that there were not more in attendance but she was happy to see everyone who was able to come.

The workshop was under the very capable leadership of Rev. Frazier Lacey, Conference Minister in charge of Programming and Leadership Development. Dr. Norman MacKenzie, Associate Secretary of Evangelism of the Division of Mission in Canada; and Rev. John Anderson, Special Assistant of the Division of Mission in Canada with responsibility to Youth Ministry.

The leaders opened the morning session with a Panel Discussion on "What the Good News Means to You". In a world where there is much unhappiness and suffering they have found that the Good News makes sense out of life and that life can have purpose and be exciting. It is the answer to personal needs. There are many ways to try to find meaning to life but the others all lead to a dead end. The Good News tells the world that by living a life of love a Christian can find a life of meaning and excitement anywhere.

Following the Panel Discussion an interesting and thought provoking film, "Come Back" was shown and discussed.

Kerby with the treasurer, Mrs. J. Doran following with her report. The treasurer and secretary also gave their annual reports, which showed the ladies had yet another successful year.

Another livestock sale date has been booked for September 23, with another date pending for the spring of 1974. A request for a donation to the Madonna House received a negative answer, but all agreed to send the usual donation to the Sacred Festival of Praise. A mass for the feast day of Our Lady of Good Counsel will be celebrated on April 29, May 1st is C.W.I., day and the parish priest is requested to speak on this. Members are reminded of the Little Trinity is an Anglican Church located at 425 King Street East (near Parliament). It is the oldest surviving church in Toronto. It was founded July 12, 1842 and the first minister was Rev. W.H. Kilgus, who died of cholera in 1849. It was originally known as "The Poor Man's Church." It was built for the Protestant Irish of the district west of the city.

The Ontario Government has designated the church as an historic site.

After a fire in 1961 the citizens of Toronto raised funds to restore the church to its early proportions and architectural position. Today it is a busy downtown church serving the needs of the inner city. The congregation is made up of people in all parts of the Metro and many students of the school there.

The Enoch Turner school house, behind the church, was erected in 1848 by the man whose name is honored. It was

Rollins Gives Grant Analysis

TORONTO - Ontario municipalities will share more than $180,000,000 in extra money as a result of the budget presented to the Legislature by Treasurer John White.

I am very pleased that municipalities in this riding will receive substantial extra funds this year. The money is intended to hold down property taxes.

Most of the extra money will be raised through an increase in the Ontario Retail Sales Tax.

Mr. White said the increase in the Sales Tax is part of a continuing government programme to reduce property taxes which take no account of the ability of homeowners to pay.

Along with the increase in grants to municipalities the new budget introduces new forms of assistance for farmers and elderly residents. A complete list of the additional grants is attached.

Tax Time

Residents of Ontario have now had a chance to absorb the details and the rhetoric surrounding the budget introduced last week in the Ontario Legislature. As one might expect, it contained little in the way of good news for any except those residents now receiving large portions of aid - the elderly and those on welfare. Perhaps they are deserving of help, but surely there are other segments of the economy which need help also.

One of the most incompressible items was the tax proposed on heating fuels of all kinds. While this is a source of revenue untapped, what difference will it make, if the province in turn is required to subsidize education, medical and senior citizens' housing facilities to make up for the hefty increase in expenditures this tax will bring in? In recent times, there has been a crackdown on education and hospital spending at the provincial level, to name just two, and to add seven per cent to a fairly large chunk of these operating costs seems a little ridiculous.

Also, elsewhere in this paper, there is a list of increased grants to the municipalities in Hastings County. We understand Belleville and Peterborough will receive over a million dollars each in this assistance. Once again, taking from the taxpayer's left pocket with an increased tax, and putting it back in the right in the form of increased grants seems to be odd mathematics. Most of the people who pay the energy tax are property owners, and the enlarged grants are supposed to offset possible increased property taxes.

It seems that in order to bring government spending into line, politicians will have to do what they are urging everyone else to do - eliminate the unnecessary duplication of staff services, cut on extravagant spending on tours, and keep the salary increases to a more reasonable level.

Festival Time

Stirling's principal event of the year, the annual Festival of Sacred Praise, takes over the community next week, and for several days the village will be host to musicians from various surrounding villages, towns and cities as they exhibit their talents in this unique yearly competition.

Different from most music festivals, in that it promotes sacred music as opposed to secular, exclusively, the festival provides not only a chance for young men and women of various ages and abilities to show their talents, but also puts the focus of energy and talent on music that quite often gets shoved aside in a day and age. Those who take the time and interest to compete, be they winners or not, are to be congratulated on their efforts put forth to make the festival a success.

A word of praise is also due to the officers and committee members of the festival for the many hours they have devoted in the past year to preparing this year's event. Through their difficulties, they have nevertheless been able to bring all the myriad details together in a workable program, and with the co-operation of competitors, we feel sure all will go well.

Residents of Stirling and area have a chance to see as many classes of competition as they wish, and this provides a chance to support the efforts of the committee and contestants. Another way of support is by attending the annual Festival of Stars concert, which presents a cross-section of talent, and a chance to hear the best-qualified performers as selected by the adjudicators.

To those responsible, thank you for this vast community effort. Let's hope it gets the support in all ways it deserves.

Ellis Urges

Why Be Reused

Concerned for the welfare of the many dairy processors in his riding, Jack Ellis, M.P., Hastings, asked the Minister of Agriculture if he had considered the fact that a quarter of a billion pounds of whey, which could produce approximately 15 million pounds of pure protein annually, is available in Hastings area.

The Minister assured Mr. Ellis that his Department was aware of this, and was considering how it can be done in an economic fashion for the benefit of all producers that have to use this protein.

Mr. Ellis was prompted to question the Minister in light of recent reports that the processing of protein may soon become a leading industry in Canada.

Mr. Ellis has arranged for appointments with both the Minister of Regional Economic Expansion and the Minister of Agriculture to follow up the matter.

Decibel points...

Noise is measured in decibels. For the purpose of controlling noise and minimizing the irritation and even emotional and physical damage it causes people, we measure sound in terms of decibels on the A scale (Dba). This is the scale that covers the range of frequencies heard by the human ear.

The threshold of hearing - the sound you barely catch - is one decibel. A rustling leaf is 10, a quiet house is 20 and a soft whisper 30.

A conversation between two people involves 50 to 60 decibels and the sound of a busy street is 80 decibels. Of course traffic noise is not the only factor on busy streets. When Toronto shut down Yonge Street to convert it last year to a temporary summer pedestrian mall, the noise levels rose, with the additional sound from people walking and talking, from loudspeakers turned out to pour music on the street and from the clinking of glasses and mugs.

As we approach 90 decibels, the sound of a heavy truck, we near the danger area where prolonged exposure can affect human hearing. This range covers noise levels up to 120 decibels - the sound from a propeller aircraft just over 50 yards away.

As sound approaches the racket of a rivet gun - 130 decibels - it crosses the pain threshold and a jet engine at about 25 yards reaches 140 decibels of audible sound that is really felt.

There aren't many of us exposed to jet engines at these distances, so possibly this source as a contributor to deafness is not relevant to everyday life.

But there are other sources that are. At one rock concert the music was measured at 120 decibels directly in front of the bandstand and 108 decibels on the dance floor.

Permanent hearing losses of up to 50 decibels have been measured in one five-man group, all less than 23 years old. This is the expected normal loss of hearing for a 60 year old man. In a year or so as musicians, this group wound up with retirement-age ears.

A few years ago, in one Canadian city, a medical health officer noticed a considerable amount of hearing loss among children of 12.

By 1970, it was discovered that 5 percent of the 12 year olds, 14 percent of the 15 year olds, and 20 percent of the 18 year olds have defective hearing.

Voluntarily adding noise to the sound intensities that are imposed on us in our environment without our consent can be dangerous.

Farmers Get Tax Benefits

"Ontario treasurer John White's budget contained some good news for farmers," says Gordon Hill, President, Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

"Increasing the property tax reduction to 50 percent, from today's 25 percent rate, will ease the heavy tax burden on farmers. It is a progressive move, and we hope the government takes another one by finding a less cumbersome way of administering the rebate than by mailing a cheque to each farmer in the province."

Hill endorses the tax-free gift of up to $50,000 that farmers will be able to give once during their lifetime, and the abolition of succession duties on farms transferred within the family. "These tax breaks, coupled with Finance Minister John Turner's promise to postpone capital gains tax as long as the farm is worked by the immediate family, will make it easier to pass farms from father to son."

"Farmers, through their Federation, have been working for these changes for a long time. They are both needed, and welcomed."

Hill adds, "The way to keep young people in farming is through increased income. Tax measures are important but young men will not stay on the farm if their farm income is not comparable to what they would earn in other occupations."

Although Hill says that farmers are pleased with many aspects of the budget, they are concerned over the seven percent sales tax on energy. "This will increase the cost of hydro, propane, gasoline, and diesel fuel used in crop production, and push operating costs up."

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

The beguiling smile belongs to Shawn, soon to be five. Irish and Hungarian in descent, handsome Shawn has sparkling blue eyes, light brown hair and fair, clear skin. He is in good health except for a tendency to colds and bronchitis.

Shawn's nursery school teacher and his foster parents find him a co-operative little fellow. He likes to sing and enjoys the creative activities at school.

Shawn is not expected to be academically minded and is slow in language development. His communication now is more likely to be by smiles and frowns than by words, but he is having speech therapy and is making excellent progress.

Shawn gets on fine with other children in groups but seems to lack the initiative and confidence to try to make friends with one child at a time. He is friendly with adults and affectionate with people he knows well.

Shawn likes picture books and plays happily with building blocks and toy trains.

This engaging youngster needs parents who will give him a great deal of warmth and affection and who will want to help him with his language development.

To inquire about adopting Shawn, please write to Today's Child, Box 88, Station K, Toronto. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.

West Huntingdon WMS Holds Meeting

The April meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Haggerty. The meeting opened with "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," Scripture 1st Corinthians 15, verses 1-20 were read by Mrs. Barton Haggerty. Prayer was offered by Mrs. John Wallace. The minutes and business and the roll call followed with the use of the word "Resurrection," "Low in the Grave He Lay," was sung.

The group was honored in having Mrs. Orno Sharpe bring a timely message on the Resurrection. She stressed that our whole Christian faith dependent on the living and resurrected Christ. Mrs. Harry Benson voiced her appreciation on behalf of the ladies and presented Mrs. Sharpe with a gift.

"Christ the Lord is risen today," was sung, followed by a reading, "We'll Meet Again," by Mrs. Harold Thompson. "Jesus keep me near the Cross" was sung, followed by "Missionary to North America" by Mrs. Ray. This missionary was David Brainerd who preached the gospel of Jesus Christ to the Indians of Pennsylvania. Brainerd's life was saved many times only by the fact that he lived the religion he professed. His "Eulogy" of a converted Indian of his day stated of Brainerd, "His not only talk Jesus all the time, Him live Jesus all the time."

"What is in Thy Hand?" was read by Lyla Adams. The meeting closed with song, "You Pray for Me and I'll pray for you until we meet again," followed by the Benediction.

A social hour was spent. The hostesses were Mrs. Mac Sables, Mrs. Howard Cooke and Mrs. B. Haggerty.

How Your Food Dollar Is Spent

WHERE YOUR FOOD DOLLAR GOES.

As food prices continue to increase consumers are again focusing their attention on the food-producing and marketing system. In the past, consumers have singled out retail food chains to blame for rising prices. However, they are now pointing critically toward other middlemen and the farmer.

The farmer, of course, is the producer of the basic food product. The middleman represents many operators in the food marketing system who perform such functions as processing, packaging, refrigeration or deep-freezing, warehousing, and distribution. These marketing functions account for all food costs between the farm and the consumer's table.

Part of the consumer's food dollar pays the farmer for his raw products and the balance pays the marketing bill. During the last two decades (1950-59/1960-69), the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar declined, while the middleman's (or marketing) share increased. The farmer's share for potato products, for example, declined from 52% to 41% and his share for beef meats dropped from 61% to 57%.

Two factors are primarily responsible for the changing relationship between the farmer's and middleman's share of the food dollar. The first is that the marketing bill has increased because of a rise in built-in services and in consumption of convenience foods. The other factor is that farm production has risen substantially with the increased efficiency of farm operations, thus making it possible to keep prices of farm products relatively low.

The much faster growth of dollar volume in marketing services than that in farm products indicates that the demand for food services has expanded more rapidly than the demand for food alone. As incomes rise, consumers spend more for food services. More people are eating in public places and more are buying convenience foods for home consumption.

Like any other services, food services can only be provided to the consumer at an additional cost. But in farm products, the price for convenience, advanced technology in the marketing of food products has made available a wide variety of processed and ready-to-eat foods in retail stores. Many housewives have accepted the convenience of having their kitchen chores.

All sectors of the economy have been affected by a general inflationary trend and the food industry, of course, is no exception. As incomes rise, consumers spend more on food products, causing prices to go up as they have in other parts of the economy. Costs have been pushed up as well, but this has affected food services more than food production because of increased agricultural productivity.

Increased productivity in agriculture has benefited the consumer more than the farmer. It has kept the cost of basic food products at a low level, thus helping to offset part of the added costs that come with food processing.

Farmers have adopted new production techniques and have increased the investment in their farm operations in order to produce larger amounts of food and compensate for decreased returns. Increased investment in production facilities, however, has resulted in higher operating expenses for many farmers. During the last two decades, the farmer's operating expenses have risen faster than his cash returns for the food he produced.

In 1971, food purchases by Canadians amounted to 7.1 billion dollars worth, which was 5 billion dollars more than the 1949 total. The farmer's share of the total retail value of food was estimated at 41% in 1971—a decline of almost one-third from his 60% share in 1949.

THE STIRLING NEWS-ARGUS, Wednesday, April 25, 1973 5

The farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar varies from year to year and from product to product. The more that a basic food is processed, the lower the farmer's share of the food dollar. Charges for baking bread, for instance, account for more than half the total price of the final product.

The rate of decline of the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar has been slowing down during the last five years. However, it may be difficult for the farmer to retain his share in the face of growing consumer demand for convenience food.

Diamonds

April is diamond month. A person born under the sign of Aries has a definite advantage. Diamond is their birthstone. According to legend, this stone is not only beautiful, but in the past was thought to have special powers to ward off evil spirits.

One of the earliest pieces of jewelry, if not the earliest, set with diamonds, although they did not look like the fiery, glittering gem of today, was the Holy Crown of Hungary, a queen's crown fashioned around 1074. Up until this time diamonds had been set in rings but for superstitious reasons of protection against evil rather than as adornment.

One of the earliest places where diamonds were worn must have been Paris, France, as it was the centre for goldsmiths from as far back as the seventh century. At this time their workshops were housed in monasteries and pieces were made for the priests. By the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, secular jewellers had become well established. The earliest reference to diamonds in Paris appears to be in 1319 when a diamond necklace was worn by the French Queen Clemence.

A well-known historical figure, the "Black Prince" of England, was very fond of jewels and had more than 25 rings, some set with diamonds by 1355.

Over the centuries, diamond jewellery has ceased to be the province of Kings and Queens and is now worn by more and more of the population. Moderately priced diamond jewellery is available at fine jewellers throughout the country. Today, diamond-set pieces are showing an increase in popularity and approximately one woman in four in Canada owns a piece of diamond jewellery other than an engagement ring or wedding band.

In the mid-fifteenth century Agnes Sorel popularized the wearing of diamond jewellery when she was presented with diamond gifts by Jacques Coeur, a French diamond merchant. He made diamond necklaces, brooches and buckles for Agnes to wear at the French court and she became famous for her collection of jewellery.

In the Reign of Elizabeth I of England, from 1558-1603, diamond rings became known as scribbling rings after a craze started for using the diamonds to scribble love messages on glass windows. Even the Queen, herself, was rumoured to have written rhymes to Sir Walter Raleigh in this way.

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

THE CHANCE LETTERS THAT NAMED THE WESTERN WORLD AFTER A PICKLE DEALER

October 12th is the day we annually set aside in honor of Christopher Columbus, the intrepid admiral whose voyages initiated the modern history of the western world. Strangely enough, however, these new continents were named America for a Florentine pickle dealer and explorer because of the chance publication of some letters he wrote. Another instance of how seemingly trifles sometimes have tremendous consequences!

Columbus made four voyages to the Western Hemisphere and to the day of his death, persisted in the belief that he had accomplished what he set out to do - find a new and shorter route to India. Consequently, to Columbus, the new lands were "The Indies" and the native inhabitants, "Indians." There was no need for a new name to designate his discoveries.

It soon became apparent, however, when other voyagers began to explore the islands and coasts of the land across the Atlantic that this was in fact a new world. A new world should have a name.

One of the many explorers who set sail to the West during the years immediately following Columbus' demonstration, was the Florentine pickle dealer, astronomer, cartographer and explorer, Amerigo Vespucci. Vespucci lived in Seville, Spain. In company with another explorer, Ojeda, he voyaged along the coast of Brazil several years after Columbus' historic journey. When he returned to Europe, Vespucci wrote some very entertaining accounts of his explorations in letters to a friend. Without his knowledge, these letters fell into the hands of Martin Waldseemüller, a German geographer, who published them in 1507, in a book called "Rudiments of Geography."

In this book of geography, Waldseemüller first gave the name "America" to the two continents of the Western Hemisphere. Waldseemüller was greatly impressed with Vespucci's accounts and wrote of the new land: "I do not see what is right to hinder us from calling it Amerigo or America." Thus the two great modern continents of North and South America owe their names to the fact that some letters fell by chance into the hands of a German geographer!

Horticultural Society meets

On April 16, at St. Paul's Church hall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry White sang the Horticultural Society on a trip to Scotland, Wales and England. We visited with Rev. George Harkes and Mrs. Harkes at their 300 year old manse and their church in Cumberland, Scotland. Mr. Brown showed us the beautiful green moor, the heather on the hills, and the snow topped mountains of Scotland and Wales, along with Trafalgar Square, the changing of the Guard and Buckingham Palace in London, England.

Mrs. Brown favoured the gathering with a number of accordion selections. Mrs. Harry White sang "On the Wings of a Dove". Thank you was expressed by Mrs. J.L. Good to Mr. and Mrs. Brown and the program committee. The minutes and treasurer's report were given. A donor's report was read. The Horticultural signs for the entrance to Stirling are in the making and permission has been received to erect same. Mention was made of the two plant sales to be held in May and the June Flower Show.

BY TOM TREMEX

Question: We've just finished enjoying our first winter with our new snowmobile. However, in preparing it for summer storage I noticed that some of the paint has burned off metal areas around the engine.

I'd like to repaint these areas, but is there a paint I can use that will resist engine and exhaust heat and yet is easy to apply?

Answer: Yes, there is. Try Tremco Heat Resistant Enamel. It's made especially for metal surfaces that get hot. It'll stay on wherever temperatures don't exceed 650° F. and where surfaces don't come in direct contact with fire.

Tremco Heat Resistant Enamel comes in a handy spray can and in colours selected for best heat resistance and durability - flat black, orange, metallic aluminum and metallic gold.

To get a lasting finish, prepare the surface by removing any rust down to bare metal with a wire brush. And make sure the surface is free of oil, grease, dirt, and wax. When the surface is clean and dry, spray the paint directly on the metal without a primer. It will dry to touch in 3 to 5 minutes.

Tremco Heat Resistant Enamel is also ideal for beautifying and protecting such things as home barbecues, auto engine blocks, power mowers, home heating radiators, and camping equipment.

If you have other questions about Tremco Heat Resistant Enamel, write to Tom Tremfix, The Tremco Manufacturing Company (Canada), Ltd. Toronto, Ontario M4H 1G7.

Faith Unit UCW

The April meeting of the Faith Unit of St. Paul's United Church Women was held on Tuesday, the 17th, with 36 present, including five visitors, four of whom assisted in the program. Mrs. Elwood Johnson received. The leader, Mrs. C. Fitchett, welcomed all with the thought, "We never walk alone." The hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory", was sung, followed by prayer and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

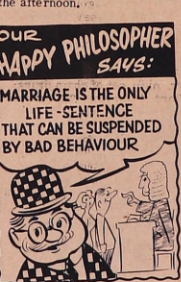

During the business part of the program, reports and announcements were made. 46 calls had been made, and various cards sent. Posters showing the needs of orphans in Vietnam were displayed. Smorgasbord and the canteen for the Festival of Sacred Prayers were made. Work for the Bazaar in November was planned, and knitting and sewing given out. Used clothing will be packed on May 23 for the needy.

Mrs. Fitchett read "An Easter Poem" noting both the shallow and the serious meanings of the day.

A devotional period was led by Mrs. S. Williams and Mrs. F. Smith, stressing how Jesus voluntarily laid down his life. The hymns, "There is a Green Hill Far Away" and "When I survey the Wondrous Cross", were sung, and prayers were led by Mrs. Williams. Mrs. H. West and Mrs. B. Jones sang a duet, "Precious Hiding Place". Mrs. West read an article about the astronauts having Communion on the moon on the first landing there, and their feeling of God revealing His presence as man reached out into the universe.

Two girls, Rosemary and Debby, from Australia, Rotary exchange students attending school in Belleville, showed pictures and talked about their country, in particular Queensland. It was interesting to see the animal life and flowers, and to hear about the Barrier Reef, their sports, their industries, the Flying Doctor service in the Outback, the irrigation schemes, the first laser beam lighthouse in the world, the new Opera House at Sidney, and many other items. The girls were applauded and given souvenir gifts.

A sumptuous tea concluded the afternoon.

The Magic Notebook

Christopher found a strange notebook and pencil on the way home from school. Things that he drew in it came to life. He drew a bird in a tree and the bird flew down to catch a worm. A squirrel chattered at him. Then suddenly Christopher was inside the notebook world. He drew some more animals. Then he tried to draw a girl to play with. But his drawing looked more like a witch.

"What a funny witch!" he laughed. The witch was angry. "I will turn you into a pumpkin!" she shouted. And when he tried to erase her, she put a spell on his eraser. Quickly Christopher drew a magic lamp and rubbed it hard. A genie popped out. In a flash he made the witch disappear. Then he fixed Christopher's eraser. And he made a beautiful little girl named Miranda. "I've had my three wishes," said Christopher. "Now what can I do for you?" The genie asked to be set free, so Christopher erased the lamp. He and Miranda had fun. But when it was time to go home, he didn't know how. He drew a wise old owl who said, "Just draw a door and walk through." Christopher asked Miranda to come along, but she said she must stay in the notebook world. Christopher promised to come back to visit her again.

Cancer can be beaten.

APRIL IS CANCER SOCIETY MONTH

WHAT IS CANCER?

Cancer is not one disease but a group of diseases characterized by the disorganized and unregulated growth of abnormal body cells. In many cases there is a favorable response to modern methods of treatment if diagnosis is made before signs of spread are evident. All tumors are not cancer - some "benign" growths may begin in different organs of the body and reach a considerable size. They do not spread but, as with cancer, the earlier treated, the better.

Burning Rectal Itch
Relieved In Minutes
Exclusive Healing Substance
Relieves Pain As It
Shrinks Hemorrhoids.

If you want satisfactory relief from
"itching piles" - here's good news.
A new research laboratory has found a unique healing substance that promptly relieves the burning
itch and pain - actually shrinks hemorrhoids. This substance has been found to produce a most effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In case after case "very striking improvement" was noted, even when the hemorrhoids were large.
This improvement was maintained
over a period of months!

Now this discovery has been healing substance (Bio-Dyne) -
which quickly helps heal injured
cells and stimulate growth of new tissue. Now Bio-Dyne is offered in distinctive and proprietary form called Preparation "H". Ask for it at all drug stores - satisfaction or money refunded.

Lacrosse Helps Blood Donors

A combined program to attract volunteer blood donors and to promote interest in Lacrosse throughout Ontario is being conducted by Red Cross and the Ontario Lacrosse Association.

A "free" admission ticket to any Ontario Lacrosse game is being provided by the Lacrosse Association for each donor who attends a blood donor clinic from April 30th to July 25th. It is estimated that 80,000 tickets will be distributed. Dates and times of local blood donor clinics will also be included in Lacrosse Association member team advertising.

It is hoped that this program will improve blood donor attendance, particularly during the slack summer period, as well as generate enthusiasm for Lacrosse, Canada's national sport.

MATURE WOMAN

UP WITH LIFE!

One day six years ago, Catherine Lanham Miller stood on the doorstep of her suburban home and waved her usual three teenagers. They were off to challenging jobs and classes; she was suddenly wondering what she would do with the rest of her today, tomorrow and the rest of her life.

"I was really at a low point," she recalls now. "I would like to say I immediately whipped into action and said 'yes' to life, but it took me a couple of years of dialogue with myself before I finally settled on my long-time dream to be a free-lance writer."

Numerous magazine articles and a full-length book later, she tells her story to encourage other women to get out of their doldrums and fight back. Her book, "How to YES to Life: A Woman's Guide to Beating the Blues" is addressed to every woman who knows she must do something about improving her life, but doesn't know how to start.

THE YOU IN THE MIRROR

"She may have to begin with her physical appearance, to build her self-confidence," says Mrs. Miller. "It may sound superficial to worry about hair, nails, skin and figure, but if you're a woman who looks in the mirror and says 'I'm too old, I'm too grey-haired, I'm too fat,' then you'll go right back to bed and pull the covers over your head."

Many women do just that, Mrs. Miller notes. She calls them "Sleepsholics." In order to cope "they sleep 14 or 16 hours a night. It's frightening." Other women escape by watching television or they become cleaning "addicts," scrubbing away at a house that's already spotless.

FOUR-POINT PROGRAM

What does it take for a

Sore throat?

Chew Aspergum. Aspergum's medicated resorcinol pastilles effectively soothes the sorest throat. And it's so easy to take, children like it too. For soothing relief from a sore throat, chew Aspergum Cherry or Aspergum Orange. It helps.

woman to come to grips with herself, to "beat the blues?" Author Miller maintains that even though each woman has her own lifestyle, there are simple guidelines that can make the going smoother. She describes them in this four-point program:

(1) Dig for the dream. "The thing you've always wanted to do, that you've had hidden inside you. Get it out. Examine it." And if you don't have any buried hopes? "Set a goal for yourself. It could be as simple as losing five pounds or as complicated as getting your Master's degree or learning to play the harp."

(2) Find the time to fit the goal into life. "Don't make excuses and say you're just too busy to possibly handle any thing else. People who aren't the least bit busy say that. Do you really have to make the beds promptly at 9 a.m. If that's your most creative hour? Why couldn't they be made at 4 p.m.?"

(3) Plan a schedule of how you're going to accomplish your goals. "Even if it's just one thing at a time, figure out today's activities, tomorrow's, next week's and so on. And put it down on paper. It gives you a sense of order."

(4) Start right now. "Don't wait 'til Fall or when the kids are away or after the house gets painted—really begin this minute. Just going to the library and reading through a few books on a subject that interests you perks up your mind and it's a wonderful way to start."

"Wake up," Catherine Miller writes in the preface to her book, "there's a great big world out there! Goodbye yesterday. Hello today!"

Silage Depends Upon Maturity

While our knowledge of silage-making continues to increase, adverse weather conditions and a number of other factors beyond our control still result in silage that is not as good as we would like. All too often the farmer is faced with a silo full of feed that the cattle don't favor or don't seem to be producing on, quality when mature and/or weathered before ensiling, and when too wet or too dry and not well packed. For good fermentation corn silage quality depends on maturity (high grain level), moisture level of 60 to 70% and the exclusion of air.

In 1972 a lot of corn grain was ensiled at higher than usual moisture levels. While this corn may present problems of freezing and unloading, the feeding quality should be satisfactory. Cattle and other stock should perform well, provided allowance is made for the extra moisture in the corn, and animals are fed more.

Badly spoiled silage should not be fed to any animals as it will likely sicken, if not kill them. On the other hand, silage may be borderline. If there is a lot of it, try it out on the less valuable cattle.

If satisfied, increase its use cautiously, mixing with better feeds if available, for other animals.

Don't expect cattle to produce as well on low quality forage unless proper supplementation is practiced to overcome deficiencies of the forage. Even at that, highest milk yields and growth rates will not be obtained on low quality forage. Supplementation must include extra energy, protein, minerals, and vitamins. Adequate grain, balanced with a protein-mineral-vitamin supplement, is probably the easiest way to ensure a satisfactory ration. Not only is the nutritive value lower with poor quality forages, but voluntary consumption rates are lower than usual and this must be taken into account.

Feed-testing for moisture and protein and perhaps other nutrients indicates quality and supplement needs to some extent. However, the need for extra protein may be higher than the test indicates because of lower digestibility of poor silage. Consequently, we suggest that you do not expect too much from low quality forage. It is better to supplement the forage adequately.

Fresh Banana-Lemon Freeze Combines Two Flavor Favorites

Golden ripe bananas combine with the zesty, fresh flavor of lemons for a refreshing cooler. This sparkling freezer dessert is a beautifully refreshing addition to your menu. A simple freezer tray and a hand or electric beater will bring the smoothest results too. When selecting bananas, look for fruit that is plump, firm and bright in appearance, and free of bruises. Once bananas have reached the desired ripeness, they may be stored in the refrigerator. Although the skin may turn brown, the eating quality will not be affected. Bananas are recommended for low fat diets since their fat content is negligible. And, 100 grams edible portion of raw bananas contain only 85 calories. Good news for many banana lovers!

Fresh Banana-Lemon Freeze
